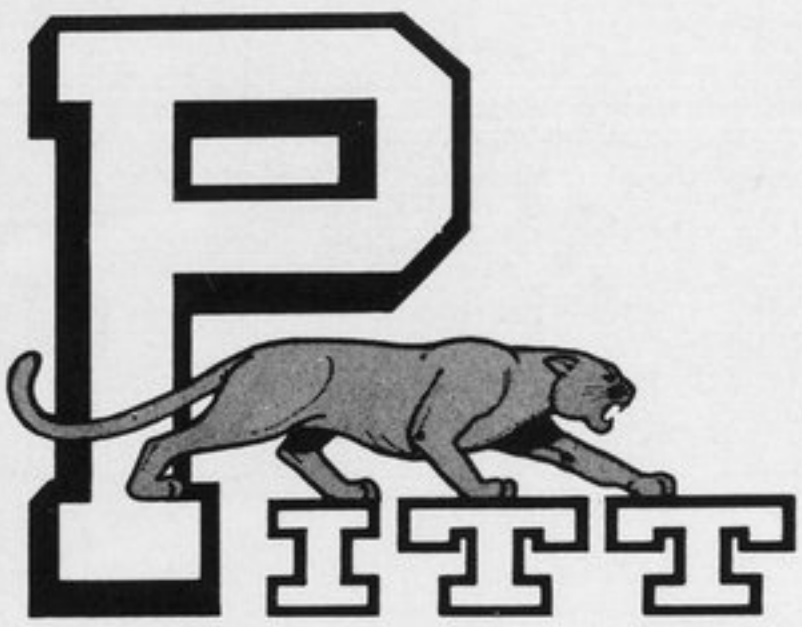
Why Panthers?



The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

This is Pittsburgh

Whether you've seen the beautiful new high-rise fountain, the dramatic skyline, the green city parks, or the nearby countryside, you already know about Pittsburgh.

You drive cars built with Pittsburgh's steel. You use appliances created and built in Pittsburgh. You are constantly affected by Pittsburgh's people and products because some of the nation's top million-dollar companies are located at the juncture of three rivers — the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Ohio.

The company names are familiar: United States Steel, National Steel, J&L Steel, Alcoa Corporation, Gulf Oil, H.J. Heinz, Koppers Company, Calgon Corporation, Westinghouse, Rockwell International, and so on.

But did you know that the second largest employer in the City is in the specialized business of teaching and learning? That employer is the University of Pittsburgh which utilizes a staff of nearly 6,000 full-time persons, including 2,100 full-time faculty members, 550 part-time faculty and more than 1,465 part-time technical and professional personnel.

In addition to being a business capital, Pittsburgh is also a sports capital. A big league city. The Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers football team. The Pittsburgh Pirates who are veterans of National League baseball playoffs. The Stanley Cup quarter finalist Pittsburgh Penguins Hockey Club. And, the World Team Tennis' Champion Pittsburgh Triangles with graceful Evonne Goolagong.

But, some of the city's biggest winners attend the University of Pittsburgh. The Panther football team recorded a 8-4 season last year and continues to gain national recognition. The Pitt basketball team was the NCAA Eastern Regional finalist in 1974 and NIT quarter-finalist in 1975. Pitt's wrestling team finished the regular season with a 12-4 record and junior Rande Stottlemyer repeated his All-America status for the third time. The track team has earned national and international fame and now the women's intercollegiate athletic program is one of the best women's programs in the nation.

While Pitt gains national interest by its athletics and the city of Pittsburgh plays such a huge role in the American business world, the University of Pittsburgh affects the nation in another way — academics. Nearly every person in the Pittsburgh area calls on Pitt graduates for professional services — medicine, dentistry, nursing, legal counseling, and business.

The Pitt diploma is not only recognized for its excellence in the professions, but in other fields. Undergraduate students can take active interest in majors from English to Black Studies, from Computer Science to Psychology, from Elementary Education to vocational teaching.

Pitt students also pursue degrees in fields from Health and Physical Education to Chemical Engineering, from Urban Studies to Speech, Communications and Theater Arts.

Students and Student-Athletes at Pitt can even study a self designed major — one that they create to suit their career and enrichment plans.

Simply said, students at Pitt can learn business in a business community, music in a cultured environment, teaching in an academic area and professional services in a city that requires and rewards such services.

Pitt finds itself a part of a city with thriving industry, flowering beauty, a symphony, ballet and opera, entertainment spots to suit many moods, rock concerts, a zoo, a huge museum and also successful sports team — including those whose uniforms proudly shout "Pitt Panthers!"

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar
Chancellor

During his nine years as chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Wesley W. Posvar has secured a reputation as Pitt's #1 backer. He often travels with Pitt's teams to their out-of-town contests and is a familiar visitor after the games and at practice sessions.

He has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen's Association; and two of his most cherished treasures are a football the players presented to him after the first victory of the 1973 season and a poster showing a Panther and a sunburst (in honor of Pitt's Fiesta Bowl bid) executed by his youngest daughter.

Dr. Posvar is a former college athlete and believes in intercollegiate sports within the framework of the academic structure. He also believes in winning.

"Academically," Dr. Posvar told a group of sportswriters on one away trip, "Pitt is one of the finest universities in the country. That's a fact and we mean to keep it that way. But let me tell you something — we're going to have sports teams to match, and that goes for every sport, starting with football and working down the line. That's a pledge."

Dr. Posvar has kept his word. Pitt has recorded seven consecutive overall winning sports seasons, and its teams have gained national recognition for Pitt.

In addition, while the athletic teams have sparkled, under his guidance the University has continued to grow academically. Two years ago Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, an elite group of universities who are judged to be of exceptional academic standing.

A former Rhodes Scholar and Chairman of the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy, Dr. Posvar is Pitt's 15th chancellor. He holds five academic degrees and his scholarly achievements have gained him national attention.

Dr. Posvar graduated first in his class from West Point in 1946, achieving one of the highest grades in the Academy's history. He subsequently was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University from 1948-51, receiving both his B.A. and M.A. in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. He also earned the Master of Public Administration and Ph.D. in political science from Harvard in 1964.

Casimir J. Myslinski
Director of Athletics

Characterized as "the architect of Pitt's athletic renaissance," Cas Myslinski has directed a complete restructuring and revival of Panther fortunes. He has, in short, delivered on a promise he made when he was hired as athletic director in 1968 to "bring the program back to the heights it deserves."

For his efforts, Myslinski was honored this past year by the Pittsburgh chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame with the Tom Davies Award for "outstanding contributions to amateur football."

In Myslinski's first full year as Athletic Director, Pitt completed its best athletic season in 11 years. Since then, Panther teams have achieved seven consecutive winning years, capped by two bowl appearances in football, two post-season basketball berths and numerous All-Americans and national rankings.

It has all sparked renewed interest in Pitt athletics both locally and nationally — which has meant increased attendance at athletic events and additional student and alumni support.

Besides the winning records of his athletic teams, Myslinski has been responsible for several other dramatic new directions in the program. He founded and has led the efforts of the Pitt Golden Panthers, a booster club that last year raised in the neighborhood of $200,000 for the athletic program. He has also headed a general facilities renovation program that has included Astroturf and new seating at the Stadium; a new lockerroom and coaches' offices at the Stadium; new floors, seating and lighting in the Field House; a new press box at the Stadium; lighting in the Stadium; a Hall of Fame corridor in the Field House, and playing fields and general office renovations.

Besides a solid program for the men's team, Myslinski has spearheaded a total revision of the women's program. It has included upgraded staff, facilities and schedules, in addition to scholarships for the first time to female athletes. In short, it is one of the more dynamic and growing women's athletic programs in the nation.

Myslinski wants Pitt to be a winner in every way. That's the way he started at Army. He entered West Point in September 1941 in the last pre-World War II class. Under the stepped-up wartime program he graduated in three years with a B.S. in engineering and pilot wings. Later he earned a Master's in Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Myslinski captained the 1943 Army team and earned their Most Valuable Player award that year. He was named to every first-team All-American squad at center and received the Knute Rockne Award as the nation's Outstanding Lineman of 1943.

Following graduation from West Point in 1944, he entered the Air Force. In 1952 he returned to West Point as Deputy Head of the Department of Physical Education and moved from there in 1956 to Head of the Department of Physical Education at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Born in Steubenville, Ohio, Cas and his wife Sandy, have two married daughters, Linda and Patricia (both graduates of Pitt), a son Michael 22, and a daughter Dorothy, 20.

A WINNER! John Majors receives the victory ride from two of his players, John Pelusi (50) and Joe Stone, after last season's 33-19 Sun Bowl win over Kansas.

John Majors

Head Football Coach

It truly has been, as advertised, a MAJOR change in Pitt football.

And, while it certainly has not been a one-man show, John Terrill Majors stands atop the football program as the individual that has provided the spark, the enthusiasm and the expertise that has turned a downtrodden team into a national contender. And, he has done it in dramatic fashion.

Coming to Pitt from Iowa State in 1973, Majors inherited a program that hadn't compiled a winning record in 10 years, and, in fact, was probably at the lowest ebb in the long and storied history of Pitt football.

But, the dynamic Majors changed all that, and he changed it in a hurry!

First came the Cinderella 1973 season which saw the Panthers put together their first winning season in 11 years and earn their first bowl (Fiesta) bid in 17 years. The startling turn-around brought Pitt and Majors vast national attention, including Coach-of-the-Year honors by both the Football Writers' Association and the Walter Camp Foundation, selection as the head coach in the All-America game in Lubbock, Texas, and the Pittsburgh Dapper Dan Club's prestigious Sportsman-of-the-Year award.

Majors followed that with a second consecutive winning (7-4) season in 1974. In addition, the Panthers made an appearance on national television for the first time since 1963, and attendance doubled over the 1972 average.

Last year, the remarkable upturn continued. The Panthers clawed their way to an 8-4 season, a Sun Bowl berth, and the #13 ranking in the UPI poll.

The three-year record under Majors of 21-13-1 is the best for a Pitt coach since the Jock Sutherland era of 1924-38. It also marks only the second time since the late 30s that Pitt has put together three consecutive winning seasons.

All of this, of course, has rejuvenated fan interest and support. Attendance has doubled since his arrival (Pitt has averaged over 42,000 fans per game the last two years), and this year the all-time season ticket sales record will be broken. Membership in the Pitt Golden Panther booster club has gone from 300 to well over 2,000, and the ensuing financial contributions have quadrupled.

There has also been a remarkable change in the attention of the national media. Articles have flooded the news media on what's happened at Pitt, and the Panthers have found themselves on national television three times in the last two years. Already for 1976, Pitt is scheduled for two TV appearances on the ABC-NCAA series – Sept. 11 vs. Notre Dame, and Nov. 26 vs. Penn State.

Who is this man who so dramatically has turned around the Pitt program? If you were looking for a one-word adjective, 'successful' might be the best one. Success has been following Majors like a shadow since he was an eight-year-old boy who led his hometown of Lynchburg, Tenn., in a WWII project of collecting scrap iron.

Majors was a lad on the move then, and he is a man on the move now. And, he's taken every football program he's touched right along with him.

He's highly motivated. He's enthusiastic. He wants things done yesterday. He can recruit. He's tireless. He can communicate. He's got a magic about him. He's got charisma. And most importantly, he can coach.

Majors actually began waving his magic wand in the toughest conference of all — the Big Eight.

Eight years ago he took a downtrodden Iowa State team and in just five years took them to two bowl games. He was named Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year in 1971 by both wire services and Gridiron Magazine. He also coached the North team in the North-South Shrine Game in Miami. After taking the Cyclones to the Liberty Bowl in 1972, he accepted the challenge at Pitt.

Heading "The Major Change in Pitt Football," he hasn't disappointed anyone.

A member of one of the most famous football families in America, John was destined to carry on family tradition. His father, Shirley, is a very successful coach at the University of the South and, in fact, was honored with a special NCAA small college Coach-of-the-Year award the same year as his son, John, won the major college Coach-of-the-Year plaque.

Besides John, two other Major brothers, Bill and Bobby, were great stars at Tennessee, while another brother, Joe, went on to star at Florida State. Still another brother, Larry, has become a successful scholastic coach. Not to be outdone, their sister, Shirley Ann, also made a football contribution as a cheerleader.

But, Johnny was the biggest football star of all the brothers. An All-American tailback at Tennessee, he led the Vols to a 10-0 record in 1956, a #2 national ranking, and a trip to the Sugar Bowl.

He was named United Press International's Back-of-the-Year, and also finished second to Paul Hornung in the Heisman Trophy balloting. Majors was twice named MVP in the Southeast Conference, and this past year was named to the All-SEC Team for the past 25 years (1950-74). He is a charter honoree in the Tennessee Hall of Fame.

Following his brilliant career at Tennessee, Majors began his coaching career as an assistant at his alma mater. He served assistant stints at Mississippi State (1959-62) and Arkansas (1963-67) before taking the head job at Iowa State in 1968.

Majors is married to the former Mary Lynn Barnwell of Chattanooga, Tenn. He and his wife have two children — John Ireland, 12, and Mary Elizabeth, 10. Majors, 41, resides in the Fox Chapel area of Pittsburgh.

1976 Outlook:

A Chance to Be Pretty Good

It has been a long time since the glory days of Pitt football under the famed Dr. Jock Sutherland in the 1920s and 30s.

Oh, there have been great teams since then and even occasional bowl trips, but nothing to match the consistent nationally prominent teams that the Panthers fielded during the Sutherland era. During his 15 years Pitt was 111-20-12, won five national championships, seven Eastern titles, and was consistently ranked among the nation's best teams.

The Panthers haven't won a national title since then, or an Eastern crown since the mid 50s, but Pitt football is once again bursting upon the national scene. And, it is not unrealistic to say, the glory days of winning football and national prominence have returned once again.

The return actually began on December 19, 1972, when Pitt Athletic Director Cas Myslinski tabbed a young coach from Iowa State named Johnny Majors to rebuild the Panthers. The results have been nothing short of phenomenal.

In the past three years Pitt has gone to two bowl games, been nationally ranked twice and compiled a mark of 21-13-1 — the best three-year record at Pitt since the late 30s.

And, it's the steady improvement in each of the past three years that has Pitt fans excited about the upcoming 1976 season. The chart shows: 6-5-1, Fiesta Bowl, 19th ranking in 1973; 7-4 in 1974; and 8-4, Sun Bowl and 13th ranking in 1975.

That brings us to 1976, and the reason for the excitement.

The glow from the Sun Bowl victory over Kansas last December had barely settled when Johnny Majors was faced with a problem.

"How are you going to keep people from ranking you in the pre-season top ten," Majors was asked by the horde of reporters covering the Sun Bowl. "From what we saw today, Pitt should have a strong team next season, shouldn't they?"

Not one to be evasive, Majors looked the reporters straight in the face and smiled, "I can't do anything about the ratings. I know we're going to be ranked high, and there's nothing I can do about that. Yes, we could have a good football team next Fall."

But Majors is also quick to point out that games are won on the field not on paper, and there are some "ifs" attached to the outlook.

"We've got to come back hungry, enthusiastic, and not satisfied with what has happened the last couple years," he notes. "We'll have to continue to develop confidence and play with consistency, and, of course, we've got to stay relatively healthy."

All things being equal, the potential appears to be there for a genuine run at national attention. Pitt will return a whopping 17 of 22 regulars — 10 from the offensive team and 7 from the defense. In simple terms, the Panthers return experience, size, speed, and ability.

Offensively, the 1975 Pitt team set a school record for total offense, and that unit returns nearly intact. The only graduated regular is FLYING PANTHERS? A vastly improved defense for last season was just one of the reasons for Pitt's Sun Bowl season in 1975. Seven of those defensive regulars return for 1976.

Rodney Clark, a flanker who was a good downfield blocker but caught only five passes.

Everything else is there, and that means the best running back in the country — and possibly in the history of college football. His name, of course, is Tony (T.D.) Dorsett.

A three-time All-America and a leading candidate for the Heisman Trophy this season, Dorsett (Sr., 5-11, 192) needs to average only 94 yards per game in 1976 to become the all-time leading rusher in major college football history. He averaged 140.5 yards last season en route to 1,686 yards (6.6 average) and 14 touchdowns.

His running mate at the other halfback spot, Elliott Walker, is a pretty fair country runner in his own right. Running in Dorsett's big shadow, Walker (Jr., 5-11, 198) rambled for 903 yards (5.6 average) and eight touchdowns. Walker, in fact, should be one of the East's top running backs this season. Adding depth to the position is Bobby Hutton, a 5-10, 187-pound senior who rushed for a 4.8 average last year.

Pitt switched to the Veer offense last season, a formation that required a talented and intelligent quarterback. Fortunately, the Panthers came up with two such performers last season, and both return for 1976. Robert Haygood (Sr., 6-0, 183) rushed for 336 yards and passed for another 687 during the eight games he started, and Matt Cavanaugh (Jr., 6-2, 209) added 488 yards passing and 110 rushing during four games when Haygood was injured.

Majors left the quarterback job still open after spring drills, but did note he'd like to improve Pitt's passing attack somewhat in 1976.

"We have excellent receivers, so I'd like to improve our passing game," he says. "I'd like to have a little better balance with our running and passing."

The Panther receiving corps, like the running backs, has speed and big-play explosiveness. In Gordon Jones, Pitt has one of the truly exciting players in the country. Jones (So., 6-0, 182) ranked sixth in the country in punt returns last year as a freshman, in addition to catching 22 passes for 385 yards and four TDs.

All-East and hon. mention All-America Jim Corbett (Sr., 6-4, 228) returns at tight end after leading Pitt in pass receiving last season with 24 catches for 322 yards and two scores.

Up front, where coaches say games are either won or lost, Pitt appears to be well set. The entire interior wall returns from last season. That shows: John Pelusi (Sr., 6-3, 235) at center, Tom Brzoza (Jr., 6-3, 240) and Matt Carroll (So., 6-3, 260) at guard, and John Hanhauser (Sr., 6-2½, 255) and Joe Stone (Sr., 6-4, 245) at tackle.

Both Brzoza and Hanhauser received hon. mention A/A honors last year. Majors considers Brzoza "the finest offensive lineman I've ever coached."

Defensively, Pitt made vast improvement last season, limiting the opposition to an average of just 13.4 points per game.

"Our defense made a lot of progress last year because we executed better, we played more of a team concept defense, and it was simplified," Majors says. "We need to continue that this season."

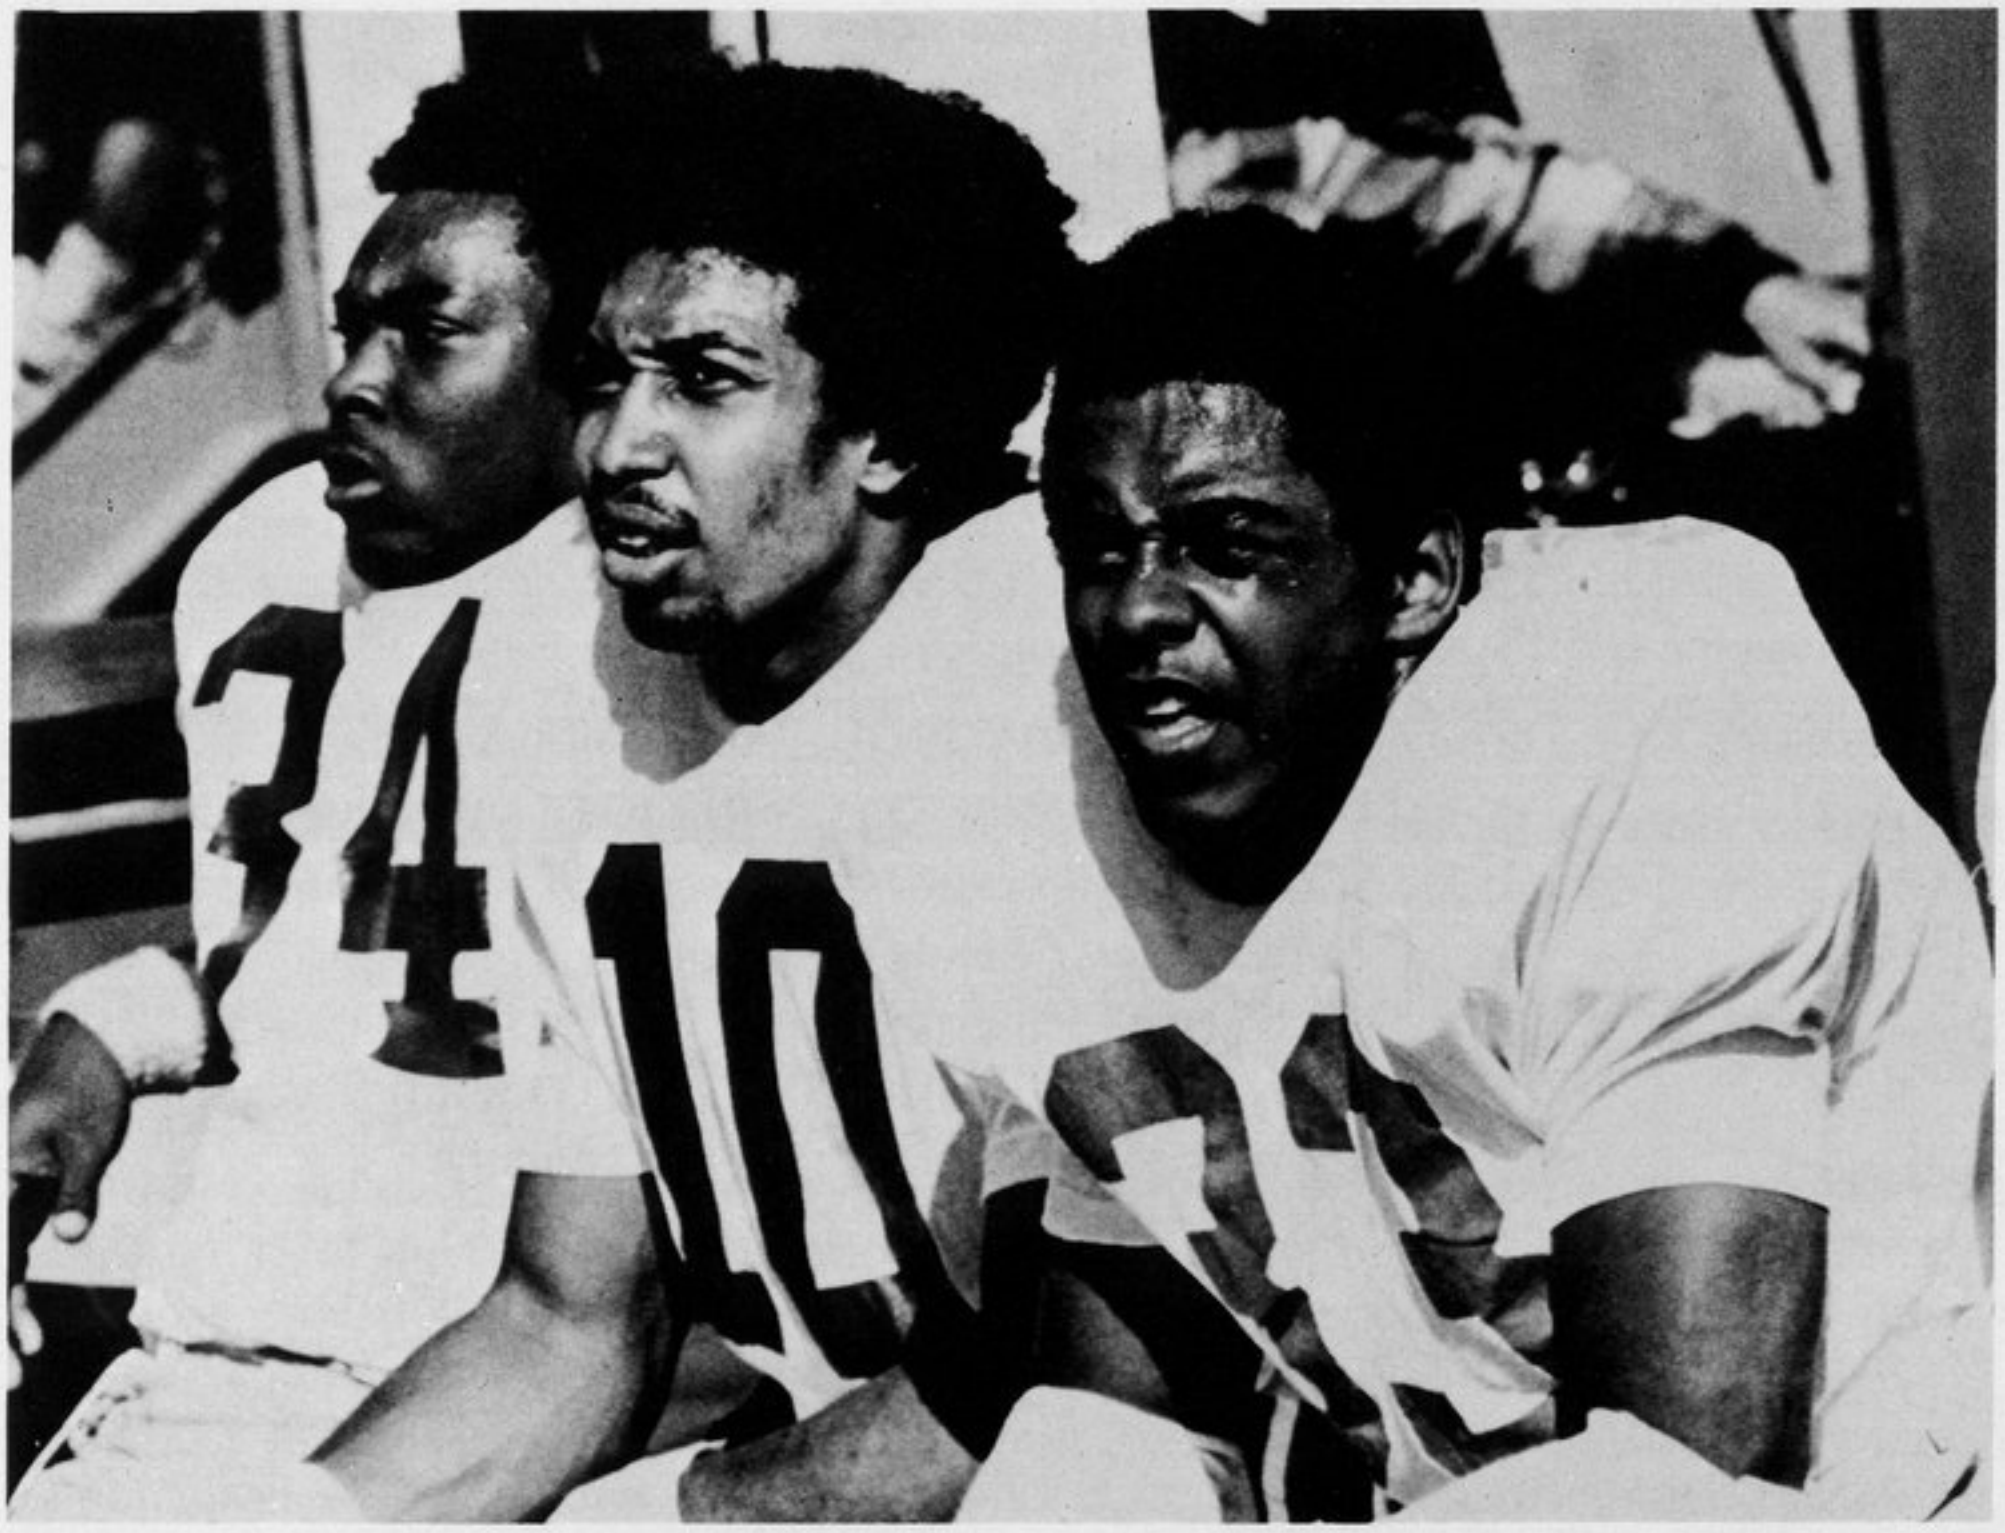
Pitt will return seven regulars this year, but the four losses will be big ones. The Panthers must find replacements for third-team A/A end Randy Cozens, All-East safety Dennis Moorhead, three-year starter Tom Perko at linebacker, and three-year regular and the team's leading tackler, Arnie Weatherington.

Leading the defensive charge will be Outland Trophy candidate, Al Romano, at middle guard. Romano (Sr., 6-3, 229) had a spectacular season last year, being named All-East and hon. mention A/A, in addition to winning defensive player-of-the-game honors in the Sun Bowl.

Other defensive regulars returning are: Ed Wilamowski (Sr., 6-3, 210) at end, Don Parrish (Sr., 6-3, 240) and Randy Holloway (Jr., 6-6, 228) at tackle, and defensive backs Bob Jury (Jr., 6-0, 186), Jeff Delaney (So., 6-0, 187) and James Wilson (Jr., 6-0, 172).

Pitt also should have one of the top kicking games in the country. The Panthers return both of their kicking specialists, kicker Carson Long and punter Larry Swider. Long is the holder of 11 all-time Pitt kicking records, including 27 career field goals, while Swider has been the regular punter the past three seasons.

All in all, Pitt looks strong on paper. But, games are won on the field, and nobody knows that better than Majors and his players. Preseason rankings and past accomplishments won't mean a thing to Pitt's 11 tough opponents this Fall.



ELECTRIFYING: The most productive backfield in the history of Pitt, and one of the best in the entire country last year, takes a breather on the bench during the 33-19 win over Kansas in the Sun Bowl. Watching the action, left to right, are Elliott Walker, Robert Haygood and Tony Dorsett. All three return this year to give Pitt one of the most explosive backfields in the nation.

Spring Game

Elliott Walker, a 5-11, 200-pound junior halfback who has lived in the shadow of All-America Tony Dorsett the past two years, stole the show at Pitt's annual Blue-Gold Spring Game by running for four touchdowns and 100 yards.

Walker's outstanding performance led the Russ Franke-coached Gold squad to a 27-16 victory over the Steve Zabriskie' Blues before 6,012 fans at Pitt Stadium. Dorsett, incidentally, watched Walker's performance from the sidelines because of a slight ankle sprain.

Walker, who gained 903 yards last season for Pitt, bulled his way for a pair of two-yard touchdown runs in the first quarter. Carson Long converted both times and the Golds led, 14-0.

The Blue squad closed the gap in the second quarter with a safety and an eight-yard pass from quarterback Robert Haygood to Bobby Hutton. Hutton rammed over tackle for the two-point conversion, closing the gap to 14-10.

Both teams exchanged touchdowns in the third period when Walker scored on a 26-yard run for the Golds, and Haygood countered with a three-yard run for the Blues.

Walker added the final touchdown in the fourth period with a five-yard run. A two-point conversion failed, and the Golds hung on to the 27-16 win.

Besides Walker, the Blues displayed power running in fullback Tom Sindewald, a seldom-used 6-1, 219-pound senior, who rambled for 92 yards on 16 carries.

The Gold squad was led in rushing by Hutton, who gained 56 yards on 21 carries, and by Haygood who had 54 yards on 16 tries.

In the passing, Haygood completed 7 of 18 attempts for 140 yards, while Matt Cavanaugh was 7 of 16 for 82 yards.

1975 In Review

Pitt 19, Georgia 9, September 6, 1975, at Athens, Georgia, 38,500 attendance

The Panthers opened the season on a successful note, besting the eventual Cotton Bowl bound Georgia Bulldogs, 19-9. Down 7-0 at the half, the newly installed Pitt Veer offense began moving in the third quarter as Carson Long kicked field goals of 37 and 27 yards. Fourth quarter touchdowns by Elliott Walker and QB Robert Haygood insured the win. The final TD was set up by Tony Dorsett, who rushed for 104 yards on 15 carries, when he broke away on a 36-yard jaunt.

Oklahoma 46, Pitt 10, September 20, 1975, at Norman, Oklahoma, 70,286 attendance

Split end Karl Farmer scored on a 57-yard pass play from Robert Haygood and Carson Long kicked a 46-yard field goal, but the Panthers were overwhelmed in this one by an excellent performance by the Oklahoma Sooners who were ranked No. 1 in the country at the time. The Selmon brothers shut off the Pitt Veer and Steve Davis and Joe Washington did the job on the Pitt defense en route to a 46-10 win. Washington scampered for 166 yards and two TD's and the Sooner defense converted four Panther turnovers into scores and scored a safety on a blocked punt. Pitt safety Dennis Moorhead was in on 27 tackles.

Pitt 47, William and Mary 0, September 27, 1975, at Pittsburgh, Pa., 31,022 attendance

The Panthers disposed of the William and Mary Indians rather easily 47-0, on this day as Carson Long set a school record with four field goals in the first half. The Pitt offense erupted for four TD's in the second half, and the Pitt defense registered its first shutout of the campaign. Long's kicks traveled 33, 23, 31, and 46 yards and Tony Dorsett waltzed 142 yards on 18 carries with three touchdowns. Elliott Walker also went over the century mark, tallying 105 yards on 15 carries.

Pitt 14, Duke 0, October 4, 1975, at Pittsburgh, Pa., 33,778 attendance

Defense was the name of the game against Duke as the Panther corps copped its second consecutive goose-egg of the year — a feat that hadn't been matched by a Pitt team since 1945 — en route to the 14-0 win. Duke played some defense, too, holding the Pitt offense in check most of the afternoon, but the Panthers allowed only 33 yards rushing. Haygood scored on a 1 yard plunge in the second quarter and Tony Dorsett went over the 3,000-yard career rushing mark. Defensively, MG Al Romano (7 tackles), Randy Holloway (7 tackles and 2 sacks for 14 yards), and Arnie Weatherington (9 tackles) starred for Pitt.

Pitt 55, Temple 6, October 11, 1975, at Philadelphia, Pa., 10,791 attendance

Junior cornerback J. C. Wilson had the day of his life against the Owls to lead the Panthers to a 55-6 onslaught. Wilson intercepted two passes, one for a TD; recovered two fumbles to set up scores; and returned a blocked field goal 52 yards for a score to earn him AP and Sports Illustrated defensive-player-of-the-week awards. Freshman sensation Gordon Jones scored his first Pitt TD of the year on a 75-yard bomb from Robert Haygood, and Tony Dorsett rushed for 114 yards and caught two passes for 80 yards, including a score each way. The Panther defense allowed only two field goals — six points over the last three games. Three Owl fumbles were recovered and three errant passes were intercepted. Carson Long kicked field goals of 40 and 44 yards and tied a school record with 7 PAT's.

Pitt 52, Army 20, October 18, 1975, at West Point, N. Y., 41,195 attendance

The Panthers began an assault on the national statistics which carried through the rest of the year with this 52-20 win, but this day belonged to Tony Dorsett. The All-America tailback gained 268 yards on 21 carries — 218 in the first half for a 13-yard per average and tied a school record for TD's in one game with four (14, 66, 21, and 35 yards). He also surpassed the school career record of 30 touchdowns and finished the day with 34 and 10 on the season. He shattered his own mark of 265 yards in a game against Northwestern in 1973. All this on a muddy, slippery field. He also began an onslaught which spurred him to over 1,000 yards in the last six games. He was removed from the game midway through the third quarter. Elliott Walker ran for 107 yards on 16 carries and Bobby Hutton for 88 on 12 carries to propel the offense to new Pitt total offense and rushing offense records for a game. Johnny Majors' troops accumulated 610 yards total offense and 530 yards rushing, breaking both 1929 school records.

Navy 17, Pitt 0, October 25, 1975, at Pittsburgh, Pa., 41,986 attendance

The Panthers suffered a bitter afternoon of frustration as they fell to the Middies, 17-0. Trailing 7-0 at the half after a 75-yard Tony Dorsett touchdown run was nullified in the first quarter, the Panthers were in the game until late in the fourth quarter when a gamble backfired and put the game away. Along with the nullified TD, Pitt was stopped on the goal line on a fourth down situation. Dorsett had 122 yards on 18 carries and went over the century mark for the 5th time of the year, including his third game in a row and the 19th time in his career.

Pitt 38, Syracuse 0, November 1, 1975, at Syracuse, N. Y., 20,065 attendance

Angry over the results of the Navy game, the Panthers played with vengeance and completely manhandled the Orangemen, 38-0, in a performance boiling over with character. Pitt registered its third shutout of the season — the first time three shutouts were registered since the 1937 National Championship team — and Tony Dorsett ran wild again, bursting for 158 yards on 28 carries and his longest TD run of the year (73 yards). Matt Cavanaugh, in his first start after an injury to Haygood, hit tight end Jim Corbett for two scores — 17 and 8 yards — and Gordon Jones on an 80-yard bomb.

West Virginia 17, Pitt 14, November 8, 1975, at Morgantown, W. Va., 35,298 attendance

Pitt suffered a heartbreaking loss to the Mounties, 17-14, in the last three seconds of play when walk-on placekicker John McKenzie kicked a 38-yard field goal as the gun went off. The Panthers rallied from behind twice, tieing the game 7-7 on a 28-yard touchdown pass from Matt Cavanaugh to Gordon Jones and at 14-14 when Cavanaugh hit Dorsett with an 8-yard TD pass. The Panthers were in position to win the game with four minutes left with a first and ten at the Mountaineer 28, but a clipping penalty and an interception ended the threat. West Virginia converted after a Pitt punt with only 10 seconds left. Dorsett rushed for 107 yards to go over the 1,100 yard mark.

Pitt 34, Notre Dame 20, November 15, 1975, at Pittsburgh, Pa., 56,400 attendance

Tony Dorsett has had some great games as a Pitt back, but he will have to go some to surpass his performance against Notre Dame. Tony rushed for 303 yards on only 23 carries, including a 71-yard touchdown jaunt, and caught three passes for 74 yards, one of which was a 49-yard score to lead the Panthers to their biggest win in the Johnny Majors regime, 34-20. For the second time in the year, the Panthers bounced back after a tough loss. Tony's 303 rushing yards is an all-time record against the Irish, breaking his own record of 209 yards set in 1973. The 34 Panther points is also a series record against Notre Dame. Pitt hadn't beaten Notre Dame since 1963 and accepted a Sun Bowl bid after the game. Dorsett's achievement was even more prominent considering the importance of the game. He set up the first score with a 57-yard gallop, scored the next TD with his 71-yarder, and his other running and pass receiving scored and set up the other scores. Carson Long kicked a FG and brought his PAT total to 60 in a row.

Penn State 7, Pitt 6, November 22, 1975, at Pittsburgh, Pa., 46,846 attendance

The Panthers finished the regular season with yet another heartbreaking loss, this one 7-6 at the hands of Penn State. Trailing 6-0 most of the game, the Nittany Lions scored on a 29-yard run by Steve Geise at the eight minute mark of the fourth quarter. Pitt came right back and missed a 23-yard field goal and had another field goal try with eight seconds left, but the 45-yard attempt was wide. The Panthers dominated the affair with Dorsett running for 125 yards to go over 1,500 and register his seventh consecutive 100 plus yard games for the year. In all he rushed for more than 100 yards in nine of 11 games and has done so 24 times in his career. Johnny Majors' troops dominated most of the statistics over the defending Eastern Champion and Sugar Bowl bound Lions, but came up empty-handed. Elliott Walker scored on a 37-yard run and the extra point was blocked.

Pitt 33, Kansas 19, December 26, 1975, at El Paso, Texas, 30,272 attendance

In its history, the Sun Bowl has been noted for putting on some extravagant offensive shows. The 1975 game was no exception. In whipping the Kansas Jayhawks, 33-19, Pitt's powderkeg offense ignited and exploded for five touchdowns. Tony Dorsett and Elliott Walker each scampered for two scores and quarterback Robert Haygood passed for one to split end Gordon Jones. But, that alone didn't begin to tell the story of the Pitt offense this day. The Pitt offensive unit controlled the game. Dorsett bolted for 142 yards, Walker accumulated 123, and Haygood, who won the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player award, slithered for 101 more. No one can remember the last time three Panthers rushed for more than 100 yards in one game. Walker opened the scoring with a 60 yard sprint around right end late in the first quarter and Dorsett added his two TDs in the second quarter. Walker dove in from two yards out in the fourth quarter and Haygood finished the scoring with a seven year pinpoint pass to Jones in the endzone. The defense, paced by middle guard Al Romano, who won the game's Most Valuable Defensive award, rose to the occasion allowing scores only after the outcome was decided.

A Look at the Assistant Coaches:

Joe Madden

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Secondary
Maryland 1957

According to Coach Johnny Majors, "College athletics needs the Joe Maddens . . . there are few assistant coaches in the country who have produced for college football in all areas like Joe Madden has."

There is little wonder then why Majors named Joe as his Assistant Head Coach this past winter. The Madden and Majors families "got in this together" eight years ago in Iowa, and the two men have grown in respect for each other ever since.

Joe lettered in boxing at Maryland in 1957, and then he began his extensive coaching career — first at Gonzaga (Washington, D.C.) High School, and then at Father Lopez (Daytona Beach, Fla.) High School from 1959-61.

He moved to the collegiate level in 1962 as scout squad coach at Mississippi State. He served as offensive backfield coach at Morehead State (Ky.) in 1963 and then went to Wake Forest as secondary coach from 1964-67.

Johnny Majors asked Joe to join him as his defensive secondary coach at Iowa State in 1968 where he remained for four seasons before being named defensive coordinator at Kansas State in 1972.

Madden symbolizes the get-it-done philosophy. He works closely with the Pitt Golden Panthers and helped organize a tremendously successful booster group in nearby Beaver Valley. He also was instrumental in organizing the Downtown businessmen's weekly affairs where local businessmen talk Pitt football, view game films and hear coaches and players speak.

A 1957 graduate of Maryland with a B.S. in Physical Education, Joe also earned a M.A. degree from Mississippi State.

Joe is married to the former Janis Baker of Mexico, Missouri. Mrs. Madden performs in the renowed Mendelssohn Choir. The Madden family sports four other rabid Pitt fans — Kerry 14, Duffy 13 (a running back for St. Theresa's grade school football team), Casey 9, and Keely 8. Joe's mother, Mrs. Mary Madden, also lends vocal support and a warm smile to Panther players and staff. In his spare time, Joe enjoys playing golf.

Joe Avezzano

Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line
Florida State 1965

If a coach's personality is relayed by his team on the football field, then look for Pitt's 1976 offense to show more flair and colorful variations than ever before, under new offensive coordinator Joe Avezzano.

Joe has been with Coach Johnny Majors since 1969, when he served as Majors' head freshman coach at Iowa State. He came to Pitt with Majors in 1973, where, in his first year at Pitt, Joe reorganized the Pitt offensive line from a slow, heavy group, to a light, quicker squad.

Joe believes in developing a close relationship with his players. He meets with his linemen weekly at his apartment, and depending on their game-grades, he even cooks one of his now infamous Italian dinners for them.

Born in Yonkers, N.Y., Joe graduated from Miami Jackson (Fla.) High School with 11 letters in football (All-City, All-State), basketball (All-City), and baseball (All-State), in addition to being class president and a member of the honor society.

At Florida State, he lettered for three years at guard, starring in the 36-19 Gator Bowl win over Oklahoma in 1965.

Joe began his coaching career at Massillon (Ohio) High School in 1967 and moved from there to Florida State as a graduate assistant in charge of the freshman offense. In 1969 he was named freshman coach at Iowa State and moved to the varsity staff as offensive line coach in 1970.

A 1965 graduate of Florida State, with a bachelor's degree in Criminology, Joe is married to the former Diann Hoffman of Story City, Iowa. A former singer and modeling teacher, Mrs. Avezzano is a clothing buyer for a Pittsburgh department store. Joe and Diann recently celebrated the birth of a new son, Tony, who was born in May, 1976. The Avezzano family resides in the Mt. Washington area of Pittsburgh, where they enjoy Joe's hobbies of cooking and music.

Bobby Roper

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers
Arkansas 1966

Success seems to follow Bobby Roper where ever he goes. And perhaps that is one of the main reasons Johnny Majors handed him the huge responsibility of coordinating the Panther defense this Fall.

As a player and as a coach, Roper has been associated with eight collegiate bowl games. He has been a part of three Cotton Bowl games, two Sugar Bowls, one Liberty Bowl, one Fiesta Bowl and one Sun Bowl. And, all this success has not just happened in "winning situations."

"Bobby has coached in competitive football situations that were not easy to win," notes Coach Majors. "Bobby Roper can appreciate a win."

His football career began at Sherman (Texas) High School, where he captained both the football and basketball teams and was named All-Conference in both sports. From there he entered Arkansas where he lettered as a receiver both his junior and senior seasons, and was named All-Southwest Conference in 1964 and 1965. The Arkansas team won the National Championship and during Bob's last two years the Razorbacks won 22 straight games.

He began coaching as a graduate assistant for two years at Alabama under Bear Bryant. In 1968 he was linebacker coach at Wichita, and from 1969-70 he served as backfield secondary coach at the Citadel. He moved to Virginia as secondary coach in 1971, and then served as secondary coach at Iowa State under Majors. He moved with Majors to Pitt in 1973.

On the field, Bobby is very enthusiastic and aggressive, as anyone who has listened on the field phones during a Panther game, will attest to! Besides coordinating the defense this year, Roper will specifically be in charge of the Panther linebackers.

Roper, along with fellow coach Harry Jones, is a country-western music buff, and if there is a country music place within a hundred mile radius of where the Pitt coaching staff is, Roper and Jones will find it.

A 1966 graduate of the University of Arkansas with a B.S. in education, Bob is married to the former Sue Warner of Sherman, Texas. Bobby and Sue Ellen have two sons, Danny 6 and Kurt 4. Bobby also has the great distinction of owning the only hand made pair of lizard cowboy boots in the City of Pittsburgh (Harry Jones never received his pair!).

Bill Cox

Quarterbacks/Receivers
Florida State University 1968

According to Coach Johnny Majors, Bill Cox, the newest addition to the Pitt coaching staff, "Knows what good football is."

Cox is a "student of the game." He approaches the game with quiet confidence and is "an excellent addition to our coaching staff."

Bill joins the Pitt staff after spending a year as the offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Rice. He has broad experience in coaching mid-west and southwestern football and has extensive background associated with the passing game.

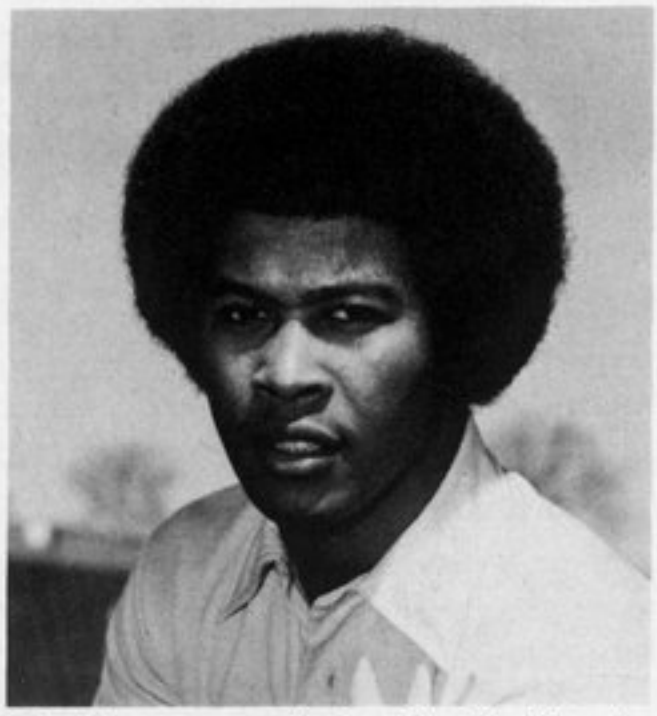
Bill started his athletic career at Henry Grady (Atlanta, Ga.) High School where he earned nine varsity letters in football (All-City, All-State), basketball (All-City) and baseball.

He was a three-year letterman at Florida State where he played on three bowl teams (Sun, Gator, Peach) and earned four top receiver awards (against Syracuse, Maryland, VPI and Texas A&M). After his final season in 1968, Bill was the fourth all-time Florida State receiver behind Ron Sellars, Fred Biletnikoff and Don Floyd in catches and yardage.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater in 1969 as a graduate assistant and in 1970 served as Florida State's head recruiter. He joined Johnny Majors' Iowa State staff in 1971 as freshman coach, and then became the offensive backfield coach at the University of Tampa in 1972. Bill coached the receivers at Kansas State in 1973 and 1974 before joining the Rice staff last season.

Bill graduated with a B.S. in personnel management from Florida State in 1968. He is married to the former Carol Ostrander of Leesburg, Florida. Two new Pitt fans include daughter Amy (age 5) and son Joe Dan (age 2). In his free time, Bill enjoys playing golf, tennis and softball.

Larry Holton
Defensive Ends
Iowa State 1970



Coach Johnny Majors had his eye on Larry Holton all along to be a part of his staff. "Larry is a superior young man, first as our former player, and now as a part of my staff. I am delighted to have him with us," says Head coach Johnny Majors.

Larry begins his first season coaching defensive ends, after heading the Panther Cubs junior varsity staff last season.

He began his football career at Keokuk (Iowa) High School where he was an All-State tailback for two years and a High School All-America. He won 12 letters in football, basketball and track.

He entered Iowa State in 1965 and was a three-year starter for the Cyclones as a defensive halfback.

Following graduation from Iowa State in 1970, Larry began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Majors for two years. In 1972 he was named an assistant defensive backfield coach at Florida State, and a year later he joined the Pitt staff as a defensive assistant.

At Florida State, Larry coached J. T. Thomas, the Pittsburgh Steelers' first-round draft pick in 1973.

Larry is very respected by the Pitt players. He has a great knack of objectivity, according to Coach Majors, and "has sincerity, enthusiasm and a great sense of humor — all of which are valuable in coaching."

Larry is single and resides in Frick Park. In his spare time, he enjoys dancing and travel.

Jim Dyar
Defensive Line
Houston 1966

Jim Dyar made his mark as a fine recruiter at Iowa State and continues to do a good job in this area at Pitt. He has also developed into one of the finer defensive line coaches in the country.

"Jim comes from a strong football background," says Coach Johnny Majors. "He's mentally tough and communicates that to his players — to play when the going is rough and you're tired — winning the battle up front."

Jim communicates exceptionally well with his players. In his first season at Pitt, his front five helped produce great goal line series against both Tulane and Penn State. Jim Buckmon, who went on to a career in the World Football League, Gary Burley, now with the Cincinnati Bengals, and Glenn Hyde, who played in the World Football League and has signed with the New England Patriots, were all alumni of that group.

In 1974, Dyar's line helped lead the Pitt defense to one of the best defensive years in Pitt football, including two consecutive shut-outs and head-to-head battle with some of the toughest teams in the Nation.

The core of that defensive line is back — middle guard Al Romano, and tackles Don Parrish and Randy Holloway. That trio has developed into one of the smoothest working units on the Panther squad, and it will be Dyar's responsibility to hold it all together again this year.

Jim's football career began at Enterprise (Alabama) High School where he won nine letters in football (All-State), basketball, and baseball (All-State).

He lettered two years in football at the University of Houston for Bill Yeomans at guard and tackle.

Following graduation, Jim was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons and played for that club in 1967 and 1968. As part of the Falcons' Huntsville, Ala., farm team, he was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player on the team and an all-league selection at guard.

Jim began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Houston in 1968. He joined the Iowa State staff in 1969 as a graduate assistant and then served as an assistant coach from 1970 until he moved with Majors to Pitt in 1973 as defensive line coach.

Jim graduated from the University of Houston in 1966 with a B.S. degree. He is married to the former Nancy Lee Martin of Enterprise, Ala. Mrs. Dyar is a volunteer worker at the Harmarville Rehabilitation Center. Jim and Nancy have two sons, David 13, and Wade 10. In his spare time, Jim enjoys making home improvements, playing tennis and spending time with his family.

Harry Jones
Offensive Backs
Arkansas 1967

The first two times Harry Jones touched the football for the University of Arkansas, he scored. That's not bad considering that he was a defensive player at the time — the T.D.'s were both made on pass interceptions. Since then, Harry Jones has compiled one of the most impressive football backgrounds of any member of the Pitt staff, as both a player and coach.

In his first year as a full-time coach, former Arkansas All-America Harry Jones coached another All-America — freshman, Tony Dorsett. Jones faces the 1976 football season with one of the most exciting and explosive backfields in college football, and the premier candidate for the Heisman Trophy.

"Harry was a great, great player and a pleasure to coach," says Coach Johnny Majors, who was Jones' defensive secondary coach at Arkansas. Majors soon lost him to the offense, where Harry became one of the finest running backs in the history of Arkansas.

He started his football career at Enid (Oklahoma) High School where he starred as an All-State quarterback and won 12 letters in football, basketball, baseball and track.

He then entered Arkansas and as a sophomore was the starting defensive safety on the 1964 undefeated National Championship team. He was switched to running back for his junior and senior years and was named All-Southwestern Conference and first-team All-America in both 1965 and 1966. He led the Nation in average per rush (7.7) in 1965 and also holds the team single game rushing record of 293 yards.

During his three years, Arkansas compiled a 29-3 record, won the 1964 National title, and played in two Cotton Bowls.

Harry played in the 1967 Hula Bowl Game, the College All-Star Game, and was the first-round draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles. He played for the Eagles from 1967-71.

He entered the coaching circles in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Oklahoma after his pro career ended with knee surgery. He later served as assistant freshman coach at Arkansas before joining the Pitt staff with Johnny Majors in 1973 as the offensive backfield coach.

Harry graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from Arkansas in 1967. He is married to the former Marilyn Munger of Enid, Oklahoma. Mrs. Jones is an industrial parts buyer for Control Systems Research. Harry and Marilyn are the proud parents of future All-American Griff (age 7) and a daughter, Elizabeth, who was born during the 1975 football season.

In his spare time, Harry enjoys playing golf, and can be seen heading toward the closest country music place with fellow coach and former teammate, Bobby Roper.

Bob Matey
Head Junior Varsity Coach/Middle Guard
Iowa State 1972

Bob Matey will begin his first year of heading Pitt's junior varsity program, along with assisting Jim Dyar in coaching middle guards.

Coaching middle guards should be natural for Bob Matey. He was one of Johnny Majors' defensive stars at Iowa State.

Bob has also brought with him, from his hometown of Youngstown, Ohio, a great family football background, which is also displayed in present Pitt players who Bob has recruited to Pitt.

He was All-City for two years at Youngstown's Chaney High School, where he lettered for three years at fullback. He was also elected to the All-Northeast Ohio squad, and honorable mention All-State. The Chaney team lost only two games in three years.

Bob entered Iowa State in 1968, in the first group of athletes that Johnny Majors recruited there — Bob was recruited to Iowa State by Joe Madden. He was the smallest defensive tackle in the Big Eight, but probably the quickest man on the Cyclone squad. He was a three-year regular for the Cyclones and was a starter on Iowa State's 1971 Sun Bowl squad — I.S.U.'s first bowl team in 83 years.

Before coming to Pitt, Bob coached the freshman defensive line at Iowa State as a graduate assistant. He has served as an assistant junior varsity coach here at Pitt for two seasons as well as a defensive assistant.

Bob is single and resides in Riverview with a very large bassett hound named Doogan. Pitt players and coaches' stomachs will attest to Bob's culinary talents of cooking tacos and red hot chili.

Keith Schroeder

Coordinator of Computer Scouting
Iowa State 1971

When Johnny Majors hired Keith Schroeder, he hired one of the finest defensive players in Iowa State history.

Keith called the Iowa State defensive signals for three years, and was named the outstanding junior on the Iowa State squad. His senior year he was picked by the coaches to receive the Reuben Miller Memorial Trophy as the senior who displayed the most leadership on and off the field. He is the co-holder of the record for the longest fumble return (62 yards) at Iowa State.

Keith made over 300 tackles at Iowa State, the highest recorded number in the school's history. He was All Big-Eight, honorable mention All-America, tri-captain in the Sun Bowl and Most Valuable Player for the North squad in the North-South Shrine game.

At Davenport West (Iowa) High School, he won eight letters in football (All-State 2 years, M.V.P., All-Conference 2 years, captain), baseball (captain), wrestling and track.

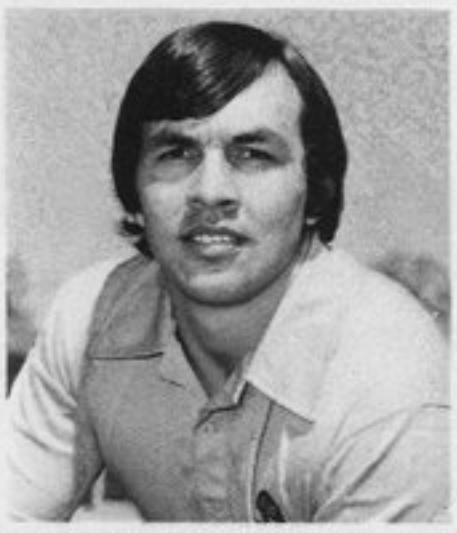
Keith served as an assistant freshman coach at Iowa State before coming to Pitt with Coach Majors three years ago. He was named coordinator of computer scouting this past winter. His duties will include breaking down game films of all opponents, scouting reports, and on-campus recruiting.

A 1971 graduate of Iowa State with a B.S. in Physical Education, Keith is a native of Davenport, Iowa, where his father is a farmer. He is one of seven brothers and sisters to graduate from Iowa State. Keith is single and resides in Pennsbury Village. In his spare time, he enjoys skiing and playing golf.

Graduate Assistants

To complete his 1976 Panther coaching staff, Coach Johnny Majors selected two former Pitt players to serve as graduate assistant coaches. "I selected Ray and Dave because of their willingness to work extremely hard," says Majors.

Both were seniors on Majors' first Pitt squad, the 1973 Fiesta Bowl team. "They helped to put pride in our program then; they did the things necessary to be competitive again," said Majors. "I know they both will be good assets to our coaching staff."



Ray Olsen

A graduate of Smithtown Central (St. James, N.Y.) High School, Ray Olsen earned nine letters in football (All-League, All-County, M.V.P., captain), basketball, and LaCrosse (All-League, All-County, M.V.P., captain).

At Nassau Community College, Ray was the team captain and M.V.P. in football and a member of the 1970 El Toro Bowl squad. He was also a member of the 1971 National Champion LaCrosse team.

Ray was a two-year letterman on Pitt's offensive line and had a tryout with the California Sun of the World Football League following graduation.

He is a 1974 graduate of Pitt with a B.S. in Health and Physical Education, and is currently attending graduate school along with his coaching duties.

Ray is single, and in his spare time enjoys fishing and weight lifting, and is a star player for the Pittsburgh LaCrosse Club.

Dave Wannstedt

A lifetime Pittsburgh resident, Dave Wannstedt was an all-star athlete at Baldwin High School where he earned nine letters in football (All-State, Big 33, All-WPIAL, All-Conference, captain), basketball (captain) and track.

Dave was a three-year starter and letterman at Pitt and captained the 1973 Fiesta Bowl squad. He earned honorable mention Associated Press All-East and was drafted by the Green Bay Packers. A neck injury ended what looked like a promising pro-football career. After surgery in Green Bay, Dave entered Pitt graduate school. He graduated from Pitt in 1974 with a B.S. in Physical Education.

Dave is married to the former Janet Redlinger of Baldwin. Mrs. Wannstedt is a secretary at Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation.

Henry Lee Parker

Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach
Mississippi State 1948

Henry Lee Parker joined the Pitt staff in 1975, and quickly became one of the best liked persons in the Athletic Department.

Said Coach Johnny Majors: "Henry Lee is a man I am proud to consider a very close friend. He is also a cross section of every quality we need for our athletic program. He has a deep sense of loyalty and is very knowledgeable about the game of football — coaching, administration, scouting, etc."

Henry Lee is a native of Holly Springs, Mississippi, and a graduate of Mississippi State University with a B.S. in history. He participated in both football and baseball at Mississippi State.

He began his coaching career at Natchez (Miss.) High School, where he was head coach from 1949-1956. He served as an assistant football coach at Mississippi State from 1956-1966 and as Director of Player Personnel for the New Orleans Saints from 1966-1975, when he joined the Pitt staff.

Henry Lee is married to the former Martha Ferriss from Shaw, Mississippi. Mrs. Parker is a physical education teacher and a nationally-ranked tennis player. The Parkers have two daughters — Susan (a teacher in Mississippi) and Kathy (a freshman at Mississippi State).

William 'Boo' Connors

Equipment Manager

'Boo' Connors has served as Pitt football equipment manager for over a decade now, and he has become a very special person to the Panther gridders. A jovial individual, Boo is not only very good at his job but he also has that special ability to get along well with the players. Sometimes he's funny and sometimes he's stern; sometimes he says 'yes' and sometimes he says 'no'. But, always, Boo retains the players' respect and appreciation.

He is a lifelong resident of Pittsburgh where he graduated from Central Catholic High School. He has been a member of the Athletic Department for 20 years.

Along with his wife, Catherine, Boo resides in Shadyside. They have four children: William 28, Judith 24, Tom 21 and Cynthia 19.

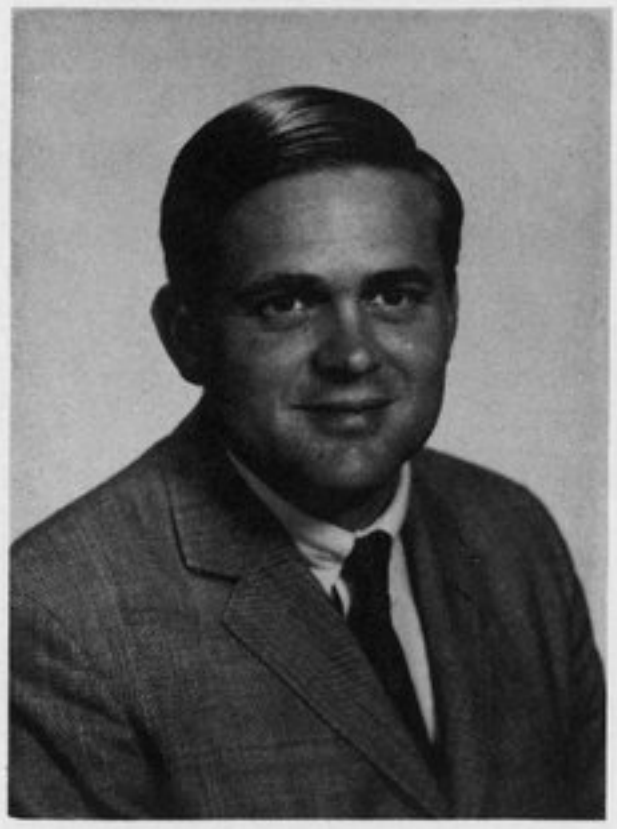
IN MEMORIAL

Friends of Pitt athletics were saddened this past year by the untimely death of Roger McGill, a man who had served the University's athletic program for over 20 years.

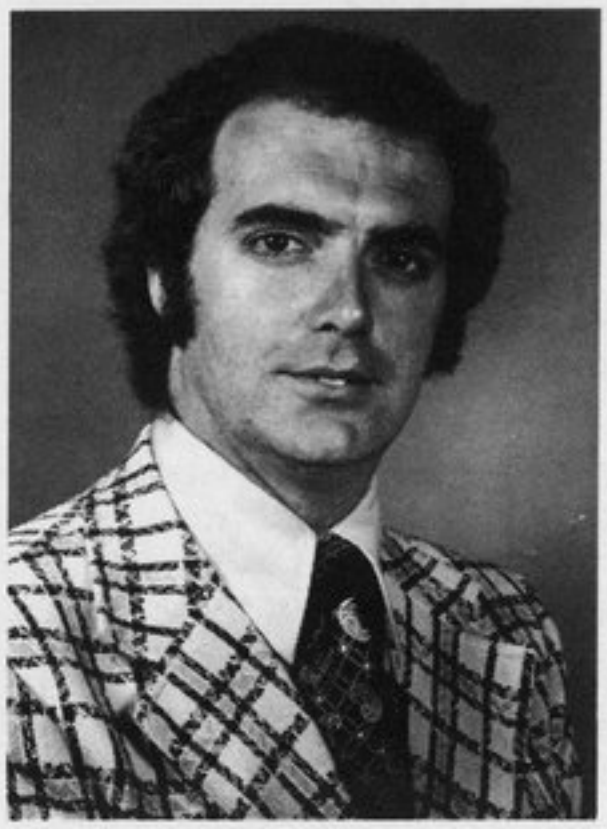
A 1950 Pitt graduate, Roger worked with Panther athletes for over 15 years as a trainer where he was considered one of the best in his field. He was selected as the head United States trainer for the baseball team in the Pan America Games, and he also worked stints with the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The past two years Roger had taken on the duties of athletic equipment supervisor at Pitt. He was an experienced professional who had the complete trust and confidence of Pitt athletes. For all those who knew him, the death of Roger McGill is a big loss. He will be missed.

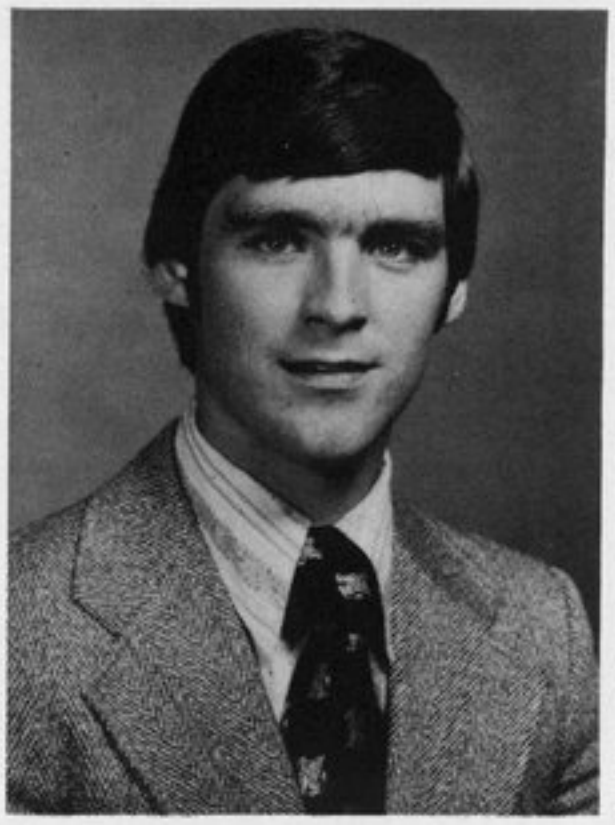
A Unique and Outstanding Medical Program



Dr. McMaster
Team Physician



Tim Kerin
Trainer



Kip Smith
Trainer

The University of Pittsburgh has long been recognized as having one of the nation's outstanding Medical Schools, so it only makes sense that the Pitt athletes get medical treatment second to none.

Dr. James McMaster directs treatment of the Panther football athletes. The Director of Orthopedic Surgery at Allegheny General Hospital and an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at Pitt's medical school, McMaster heads a team of physicians and trainers who operate the University's Division of Sports Medicine.

Working with Dr. McMaster are Dr. H. 'Woody' Hazer and Dr. Mary Clark. Tim Kerin is in charge of the training room, and is assisted by Kip Smith.

The Sports Medicine Division, in addition to caring for the Pitt athletes, recently developed a program in cooperation with the University's Physical Education Department to train and certify athletic trainers. The Division also holds a daily sports medicine clinic for all sports related injuries.

The care of the Pitt athletes has expanded greatly over the past several years. Dr. McMaster heads a team of 17 specialists and 13 student trainers, in addition to Kerin, Smith and a graduate assistant for the women.

Together, this staff tends to the needs of over 600 athletes in 18 varsity sports as well as a huge intramural program at the University.

Tending to the players' injuries, setting up training tables, and itineraries are all duties carried out by Kerin. A 1969 graduate of Indiana University, he also coordinates the off-season training program for the football players. This past year Kerin was honored by being named President of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society.

The two Pitt trainers — Kerin and Smith — also teach courses at the University in Athletic training and Sports Medicine. In all, 20 undergraduate credits are available in this field. Next year it is planned to have credits available to graduate students. The courses have already received the approval of the National Athletic Trainers Association.

This program is the only one in the country that is open to both Education and Physical Therapy majors. It is also one of three most expanded programs in the country and one of two directly connected with a school of medicine.

McMaster and staff have also conducted one of the finest Sports Medicine Symposiums for coaches, doctors and trainers. The symposium is held every spring at the University and covers a wide range of Sports Medicine topics.

Aside from the large staff of doctors and trainers, Pitt athletes also have X-ray and lab facilities available in the Stadium and Presbyterian-University Hospital directly across the street for the more serious injuries.

Game Notes: Pitt enjoyed its highest point production since the 1937 National Championship year in trouncing Temple, 55-6, in Veteran's Stadium last year . . . the game could have been designated "J. C. Wilson Day" . . . Wilson, from his defensive back position, returned a blocked field goal 52 yards and an intercepted pass 6 yards for touchdowns, intercepted one other pass, recovered two fumbles, and stopped two TDs with key defensive plays . . . he was named on both AP and UPI National Back-of-the-Week teams . . . Temple has registered six consecutive winning seasons . . . Wayne Hardin has guided the Owls to a 23-8 record the past three years . . . Temple returns 28 lettermen . . . Game Notes: Head coach Mike McGee, a former Duke All-America who won the Outland Trophy in 1959, understandably prides himself on defense . . . he had much to be proud of last year as his team held the highly touted Pitt offense to two touchdowns . . . Pitt won the encounter, 14-0 . . . a one-yard plunge by Robert Haygood and a two-yard spurt by Tony Dorsett was all the Panthers could muster against the Blue Devils . . . showing steady improvement the last several years, the Blue Devils feel they are ready to challenge for the ACC championship . . . Duke returns 33 lettermen in all, seven each on offense and defense . . . the two schools have staged some classic battles through the years and the series, which is tied at eight games apiece, dates back to 1929 . . . the last time Pitt visited Wallace Wade Stadium, the Panthers hung on for a 14-12 win in 1969.

Game Notes: The 41,000 plus fans at Michie Stadium and the ghosts of the great runners that had rambled there in the past will long remember Tony Dorsett's performance in last year's game that the Panthers won, 52-20 . . . amidst the raindrops and the mud, Dorsett romped for 268 yards and four touchdowns on only 21 carries (a 13.7 average) . . . Dorsett's performance prompted Army head coach Homer Smith to say "I haven't seen a runner like Tony Dorsett since O. J. Simpson" . . . Elliott Walker also rushed for 107 yards and Bobby Hutton chipped in 88 . . . Pitt established records for both game rushing and game offense . . . Pitt holds a 11-6-2 edge in the series which dates back to 1931 . . . Army last won in 1971 (17-14) . . . Smith returns 29 lettermen, including six each on offense and defense.

Game Notes: A caucus of the best sportswriters in the country couldn't have written a more dramatic script for last year's Pitt-West Virginia game . . . walk-on placekicker Bill McKenzie's field goal try sailed through the uprights as the gun went off to give the Mountaineers a 17-14 win . . . games like this have been the rule rather than the exception in this bitter rivalry which dates back to 1895 . . . Pitt leads the series by a wide margin, however, 45-22-1 . . . Next to Penn State (1893) West Virginia is Pitt's oldest opponent . . . new Head Coach Frank Cignetti will have 29 lettermen at his disposal and will have some holes to fill with only nine starters returning.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

When Johnny Majors took the head football coaching job at Pitt, he noted that the University had three major ingredients to help produce a winning program — an outstanding schedule, a strong winning tradition, and a large stadium.

With a seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval shaped stadium is a good one for viewing football.

The interior of the 51-year-old bowl is now painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the red-brick colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. In the past 3 years, 14 sections of gold aluminum seating have been installed, adding comfort and brightness to give Pitt Stadium an eye-catching appearance.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were taken out to provide better access to all of the seats. The stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. Besides the football field, facilities include a band room, a 440-yard track, dressing rooms, and a reception room.

The first game was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee, 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games in the stadium. The single-game attendance record was set in 1938 when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the stadium to see Pitt top Fordham, 24-13. The one-season attendance record was set in 1956 when 239,718 people watched the Panthers in five games. The average game attendance of 47,944 is also a stadium record.

Heisman Trop

Tony (T. D.) Dorsett Sr.,

All-America Half

Numerous football experts rank Tony Dorsett first among all collegiate running backs. But of course, first is nothing new for Tony. He's seen a lot of "firsts" since he touched a football at Pitt in 1973.

Dorsett upgraded several collegiate standards as a freshman, including NCAA rushing records for both single games (265 yards vs. Northwestern) and season (1,586). He was the first consensus freshman All-America since 1944 and was the first sophomore ever named to the Playboy All-America team.

From that brash beginning, Dorsett finds himself on the brink of immortality, chasing two memorable milestones in this his senior year.

But that's ahead. Since that freshman year, Dorsett has put together a string of formidable firsts. He is the first junior in NCAA major college history to reach the 4,000-Yard rushing plateau. He is only the second major college runner to have two 1,500-Yard seasons to his credit. Tony has outrushed the Heisman Trophy winner two of his three years (1973 and 1975). How many people have done that?

Dorsett has figured in the Heisman balloting each of his three years. . .his strongest showing came last year, finishing fourth.

With all he's done in the past, if Dorsett surpasses Archie Griffin as the all-time rusher and gets his 1,000 yards, he could win the Heisman Trophy. And that would yet be another first for Pitt and Tony Dorsett . . . participated in seven-city promotional tour for college football in conjunction with the NCAA and ABC-TV in 1975 . . . was selected by the NCAA to cut anti-drug promos which appeared on television last fall . .,. holder of seven Pitt rushing and scoring records: career rushing leader (4,376); yards rushing one season (1,686, 1973 – he had 1,685 in 1975); one-game rushing total (303 vs. Notre Dame, 1975); touchdowns career (40); touchdowns one season (16, 1975); touchdowns one game (four vs. Army, 1975, tied with four others); and total points one season 94 points – 16 TDs – 1975 . . . in the year of the running back last year, Dorsett was named on three first team All-America teams . . . in high school was named to Parade, Scholastic, and Coach and Athlete All-America teams out of Hopewell High School in Aliquippa, Pa. . . . Pa. Big 33, AP and UPI All-State first-team, second team as defensive back . . . nicknamed "TD" and "Hawk" . . . studying Communications . . . is interested in broadcasting career after football . . . son of Wes & Myrtle Dorsett.

WHAT THE COACHES HAVE TO SAY ABOUT T.D. . . .

- "Anthony Davis was nothing like Tony Dorsett. Kermit Johnson was nothing like Tony Dorsett. James McAllister was nothing like Tony Dorsett. Archie Griffin is not as good as Tony Dorsett in the open field. I have not seen a running back like Tony Dorsett since O. J. Simpson." – Homer Smith of Army
- "He's tremendous. What else can you say about him. I don't know if I've ever seen a better running back. It's not only his speed, but he has great judgment, too. He can make a couple moves and he's gone. He scares you before the game even starts." – Joe Paterno of Penn State
- "Dorsett put on a great exhibition of running against us. It was as fine a performance as I've seen in 28 years of coaching. We tried to make normal adjustments, but one guy kind of made them inadequate." – Dan Devine of Notre Dame
- "How much can you say about a guy. He's fantastic. He's so blistering fast and he can stop on a dime. He breaks tackles and doesn't go down easy. You've got to get him before he gets his motor running, and it doesn't take him long to do that. Archie Griffin relied more on power while Dorsett's best quality is his great speed. I hate to make comparisons between the two, but if I had to make a choice – between the power or the speed – then I'd take Dorsett." – Frank Maloney of Syracuse
- "I think Tony Dorsett has no peers as a runner. He's the most outstanding runner in college football today. He should be the #1 candidate for the Heisman Trophy in 1976. I think it would be a crime if this young man has a good year and is not the #1 candidate. He's performed for three years better than any other back in the history of the game over a three-year period." – Johnny Majors of Pitt

T.D.'s HEISMAN TRAIL

1. Could become the ALL-TIME LEADING RUSHER in NCAA major college history this season. Needs to average only 94 yards per game in 1976 to move into first place ahead of Archie Griffin. That should be well within his reach – he averaged 140.3 yards per game last season. Presently, Tony ranks third on the all-time NCAA list with 4,134 yards. Ahead of him are Griffin (5,177) and Ed Marinaro (4,715).

2. Could become the FIRST player in NCAA major college football history to rush for four (4) consecutive 1,000-yard-plus seasons.

3. T.D. has OUTRUSHED the HEISMAN TROPHY WINNER two of the last three years – 1,586 yards to 1,322 for John Cappelletti in 1973, and 1,544 to 1,357 for Archie Griffin in 1975.

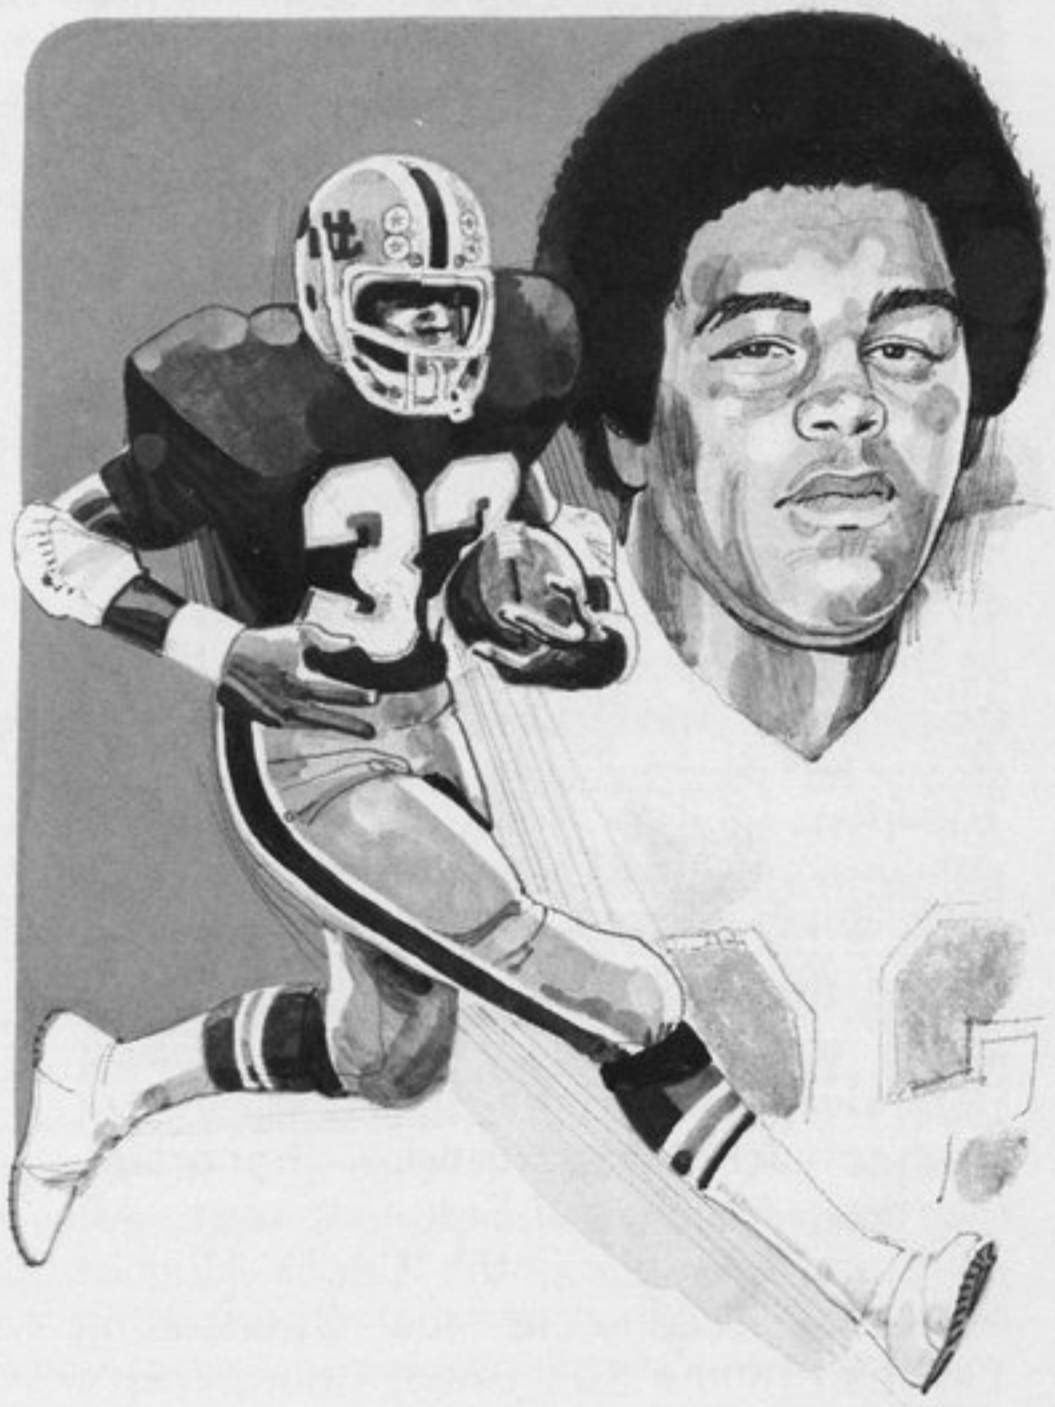
4. FIRST JUNIOR ever to reach 4,000 yards in career rushing. Also, only the second major college rusher in history with two 1,500-yards-plus seasons.

5. His 6.8 YARD PER RUSH AVERAGE last season was the highest among the top seven rushers in the country and 2nd among top 25 rushers.

6. Finished fourth (4th) in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1975 with 616 points. He collected 66 first-place votes. Placed 11th in the voting as a freshman and 13th as a sophomore.

7. 1975 1st Team ALL-AMERICA – Football Writers of America, Football Coaches' Association and Walter Camp Foundation. Also named UPI Eastern Player-of-the-Year.

8. FIRST legitimate freshman All-America in 29 years: Associated Press, NEA, and Detroit Sports Extra.



9. All-time PITT CAREER RUSHING leader with 4,376 (including 2 bowl games); broke the record after 14 games his SOPHOMORE year.

10. FIRST sophomore in history to be chosen to Playboy pre-season All-America team, 1974.

11 Ran for all-time RECORD 303 YARDS RUSHING against Notre Dame on just 23 carries.

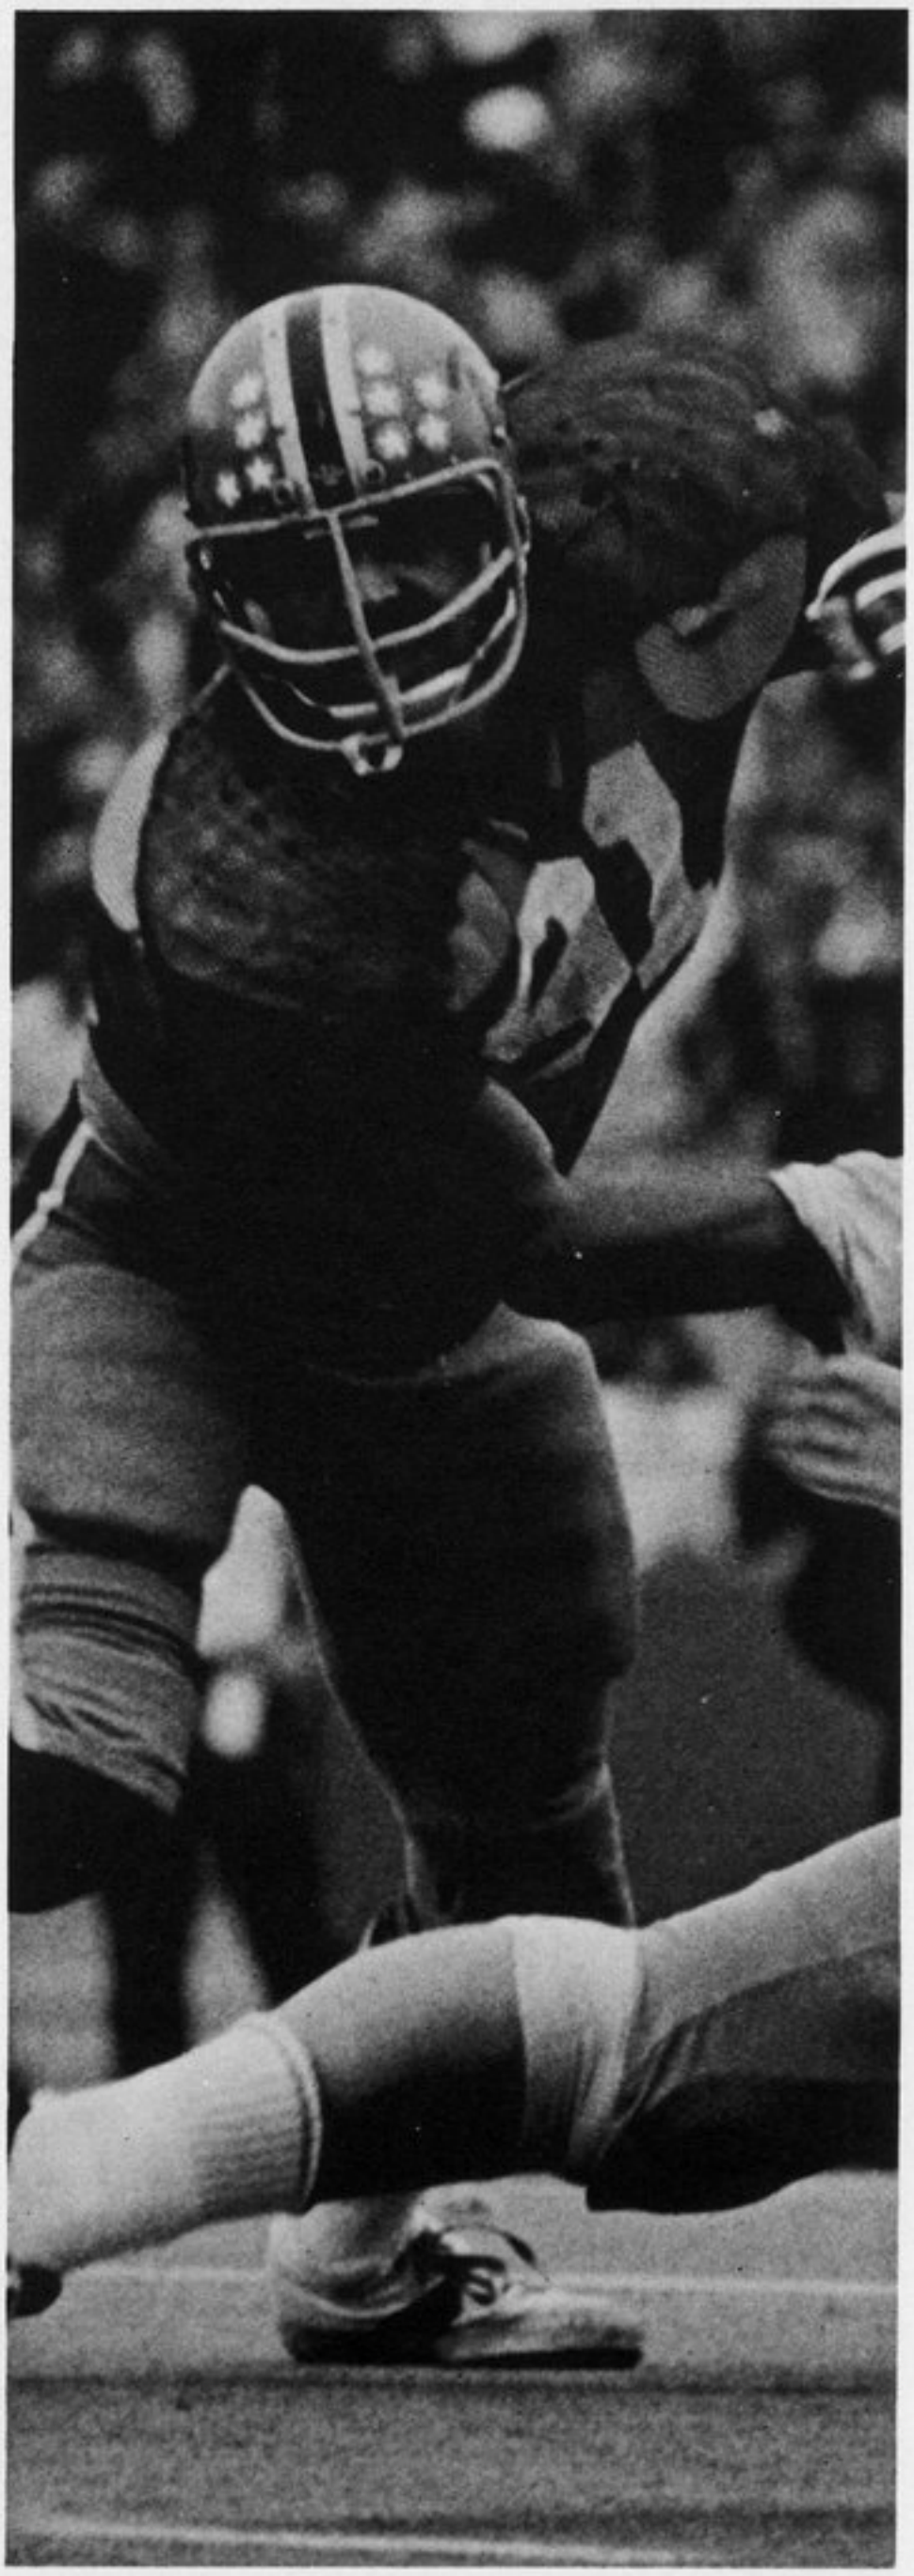
12. His 268 yards rushing at Army this past year were the most ever in the 52-year history of famed Michie Stadium where such running backs as Glenn Davis, Doc Blanchard, and Pete Dawkins all played.

13. Twice in 1975 named Associated Press Back-of-the-Week, Sports Illustrated Player-of-the-Week, and United Press International Backfield-of-the-Week.

Outland Trophy Candidate

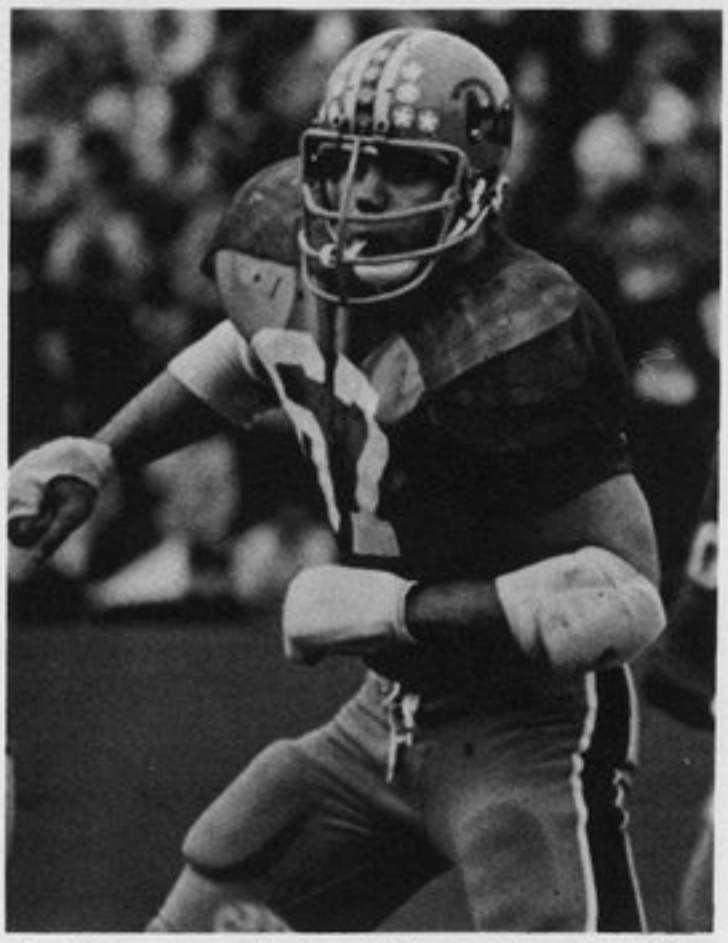
Al Romano* Middle Guard Sr., 6-3, 230 Solvay, New York

After a fine sophomore season two years ago, Al really came into his own last year . . . coming off that performance he is a legitimate All-America and Outland Trophy candidate . . . flanked by Don Parrish and Randy Holloway at tackles, the threesome has already accounted for 66 starts at Pitt . . . Al registered 101 tackles in 12 games last year — 68 individual, 33 assists — with three sacks . . . the defense will be built around the defensive line with Al as the central figure . . . coaches feel he is as sound as they've seen at his position . . . real tough, explosive, doesn't get hurt, and consistent . . . also very intelligent, you may beat him once but you won't beat him again with the same move . . . runs a 4.7 forty . . . his leadership qualities may be his biggest asset . . . after the Notre Dame game Dan Devine said, "Romano is great, he just doesn't get blocked" . . . Joe Paterno said, "Romano is just a fantastic defensive lineman" . . . amassed quite a list of credentials last year: was named the ABC Chevrolet Player-of-the-Game against West Virginia; La-Z-Boy Defensive-Player-of-the-Game vs. Notre Dame; AP All-America honorable mention; AP-UPI All-East first team; AP All-State first team; the Chuck Hughes Memorial Trophy as the Outstanding Lineman in the Sun Bowl; Churchmen's All-America team; and the Mary C. Jackson Trophy, given by the Churchmen's Sports Hall of Fame . . . earned 10 letters at Solvay High School and was named All-County, All-Upstate New York, and All-State . . . came to Pitt from Staunton Military Academy . . . Economics . . . son of Anthony and Dorothea Romano.



All-America Candidates

Tom Brzoza Off. Guard Jr., 6-3, 240 New Castle, Pa.



Though only average size for an offensive lineman, Tom is considered a legitimate All-America candidate as a junior . . . was voted honorable mention All-America by the Associated Press after his fine 1975 season . . . was named Pitt's Offensive-Lineman-of-the-Week five times last year by the coaches and was tabbed Offensive-Lineman-of-the-Year at season's end . . . consistently graded the highest of the offensive linemen last year . . . he possesses good speed, excellent quickness, and a gutty attitude . . . got his first start against North Carolina in 1974 as a freshman and has been there ever since . . . was also voted Downfield-Blocker-of-the-Week twice last year . . . his coach, Joe Avezzano, says, "combining Tom's attitude, effort, and ability, I feel he can be one of the best guards in the country this coming year" . . . additionally, he has strong character: "Tom is an excellent person," Avezzano says, "his character is such that he could represent any football program in the country in nothing but a positive way" . . . was named to Football News Freshman All-America team in 1974 . . . at Neshannock High School he captained the football team and was named All-WPIAL Class A, All-Tri-County, and to both the Pittsburgh Press and Post-Gazette All-Star teams . . . won four letters in all, two each in football and track . . . his uncle, Billy Chip, played football at Navy and went on to be World Middleweight boxing Champ . . . nicknamed "Bozo" — easier to pronounce than Brzoza . . . enjoys fishing, water skiing, and tennis . . . Liberal Arts . . . son of Joseph and Patricia Brzoza.

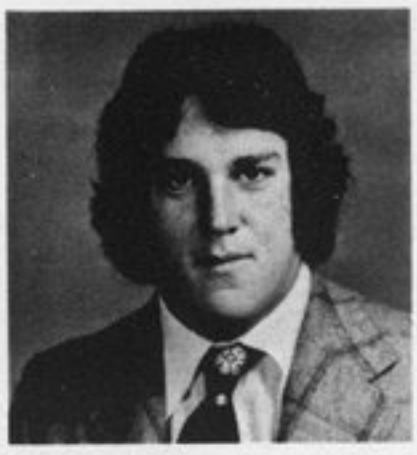
Mike Balzer



Matt Carroll

Matt Cavanaugh

Al Chesley

Mike Balzer* Safety So., 6-1, 172 Dunkirk, N.Y.

Mike arrived on the scene as a freshman last year and immediately won a backup safety position behind starter Dennis Moorhead . . . in evaluating him at the end of the year, Coach Joe Madden felt that Mike showed promising signs of becoming a great college safety . . . saw plenty of action last year and was a very valuable performer on the kicking teams . . . traveled with the team all year . . . was nicknamed "Thumper" by Madden because of his hitting ability . . . intercepted one pass . . . needs a little more game experience and a little more bulk on his body . . . injured his knee on the last day of spring practice but should be recovered after surgery . . . won three letters in football, two each in basketball and track, and one in baseball at Dunkirk High School . . . was first team All-State, All-Section, All-Conference in football and a fourth team All-State and All-Conference in basketball . . . captained both teams . . . brother, Andy, played football at Wyoming . . . son of Andrew and Jeannette Balzer.

Matt Carroll* Off. Guard So., 6-3, 260 Norwood, Pa.

Matt came on as a freshman last year and with his great size and strength was able to move into the starting lineup by midseason . . . started the Syracuse game and never relinquished the job . . . the biggest and strongest of the offensive linemen, due a lot to the fact that he's an avid weightlifter . . . lettered three years in football and two in track at Interboro High School . . . was voted All-Philadelphia Area, All-Delco Conference, and All-Scholastic . . . was also All-Delco in track . . . nicknamed "Beef" for obvious reasons . . . as far as anyone can recollect, Matt could be the biggest regular in Pitt's history . . . son of John and Eileen Carroll.

Matt Cavanaugh* Quarterback Jr., 6-2, 209 Youngstown, Ohio

Matt is involved in a tooth and nail fight for the starting quarterback job on this year's team with Robert Haygood . . . both battled hard last year and continued to do so during spring practice . . . Matt made alot of improvement in the Spring with his passing and improved his option technique . . . Haygood appeared to come out of Spring with the edge, but the starting job most likely won't be decided until Fall camp . . . Economics . . . son of Louis and Jo Marie Takacs.

Willie Taylor* — Flanker — Jr., 6-1, 180 — Verona, N.J.

Willie has to be considered the starting flanker going into fall camp . . . is the only new starter on the offensive unit, replacing graduated Rodney Clark, but he really played as much as Clark last year . . . made great improvement in spring practice . . . an excellent athlete, he is another big play person on offense . . . good speed and probably possesses the best hands on the team . . . needs some more game experience . . . caught two passes for 55 yards last year, including a 41-yard grab against William and Mary which many local buffs considered the best catch they've seen at Pitt Stadium . . . returned four punts for 18 yards and two kickoffs for 31 yards . . . was an excellent JV performer two years ago, rushing for 113 yards and making 25 receptions for 439 yards and six TDs . . . caught 12 passes in one game and scored five TDs in another . . . was a fine athlete at Verona High (nine letters) but missed senior year because of injury . . . was overlooked by recruiters, but Pitt coaches gambled on him on the word of coach Al Rotella . . . Liberal Arts . . . son of Willie and Rose Marie Taylor.

Dave Treiber* — Off. Tackle — Sr., 6-3, 250 — Laurel, Md.

Dave appears recovered from minor spring injury problems and seems ready to add both quality and depth to the Panther offensive line . . . lettered last year off his valuable back-up work at tackle . . . started the Army game, in which Pitt set new one-game rushing and total offense records . . . has good fundamental knowledge of the operations of a tackle, but his biggest asset is his attitude . . . came to Pitt from Wesley Junior College where he was touted first-team JC All-America, All-Region 9, and Conference Lineman-of-the-Year . . . was All-State, All-Conference, and All-Metro Area at Arundel High School in the D.C. area . . . a fun loving guy, he's always thinking of a gimmick to liven things up: last year he shaved his head at fall camp; this year he sports an interesting tatoo on his calf . . . loves music and plays the guitar good enough for a rock group . . . his father, Charles, was an offensive lineman at Maryland in 1950-51 . . . Economics . . . son of Charles and Gwen Treiber.

Gary Tyra* — Linebacker — Jr., 5-11, 225 — Elmira, N.Y.

Gary had a very good spring practice, and off that he is listed first in the depth chart at right linebacker . . . is small statured, but is deceptively strong and quick . . . earned a letter last year backing up Al Romano at middle guard . . . coaches switched him to linebacker in the spring . . . was the smallest defensive lineman a year ago but was a real buzzsaw . . . in fact, the team nicknamed him "Tazmanian Devil" for that reason . . . is an avid weightlifter who also likes to fish and hunt . . . Education . . . wants to be a coach . . . son of Pete and Virginia Tyra.

Elliott Walker

Ed Wilamoski

James Wilson

Bill Vitalie* Def. End Jr., 6-3, 222 Indiana, Pa.

A letterman as a sophomore two years ago, Bill was withheld last year and could challenge this fall for a job at defensive end . . . can also play linebacker . . . started four games two years ago, registering 13 tackles (seven individual and eight assists) . . . had a great effort against Georgia Tech . . . is strong enough and has the lateral and raw speed to excel . . . earned three football and two basketball letters at Indiana Area High School . . . was named All-County and was a Big 33 nominee . . . Biology/Pre-Dental . . . Dean's list student four trimesters . . . son of William and Betty Vitalie.

Elliott Walker Fullback Jr., 5-11, 198 Miami, Fla.

Teamed in the same backfield with Tony Dorsett, Elliott gives the Panthers as explosive a one-two punch as there is in the country . . . needs just 624 yards rushing this season to become Pitt's second all-time leading rusher, behind Tony Dorsett and ahead of Marshall Goldberg (1,957) . . . really came of age as a runner last year and made a great contribution by rushing for 903 yards on 161 attempts (a 5.6 average) and eight touchdowns . . . third leading scorer on the team with 54 points . . . also returned four kickoffs for 40 yards . . . opened the way for many of Dorsett's long runs with his fine blocking . . . has great speed (4.4), blocks well, catches passes well, and has tremendous quickness . . . certainly a first-team All-East candidate . . . Harry Jones, his coach, says, "I haven't seen all the great running backs in college perform, but of the ones I've seen, Elliott rates right with them" . . . strength is his biggest assett . . . rushed for over 100 yards against William and Mary, Army and Kansas . . . only twice did he fail to rush for over 50 yards . . . went 80 yards for a TD on his first collegiate carry against North Carolina in 1974 . . . with two years ahead of him could become only the second Pitt player to rush for over 1,000 in a season (Dorsett is the other) . . . was the leading ground gainer in South Florida history his senior year at Miami Jackson High School (1,580) and was named first-team All-America, All-State, All-Southern, All-Region, and All-City . . . Liberal Arts . . . son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Walker.

PITT RECORDS & STATS

Eighty-Six Years of Panthers

Pitt football began when the University was known as the Western University of Pennsylvania in 1890, but the Panthers did not begin their march into the front line powers for another decade.

In 1904 the Western University of Pennsylvania eleven, had its first winning streak. Sparking this team was Joe Thompson, of World War I fame.

He took over as coach after his graduation, and in 1910 turned out an undefeated, untied, and unscored on eleven.

In 1914 under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers prepared for the event of Pop Warner, by losing only one game.

Not until mid-1919 did the Blue and Gold bow in intercollegiate competition. Thirty-two consecutive victories were recorded.

In 1916 the Pitt team came up with an innovation, for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers, under Warner, were the first to wear numbers.

During this period the first All-American appeared. Bob Peck, in 1915 and 1916 was rated as one of the great All-Time All-Americans at center, Tom Davies, at halfback, and Leonard Hilty, at tackle, in 1918 were some other stars of the era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard by the name of Jock Sutherland, the 1917 captain and end; Dr. H. C. Carlson, for 31 years head coach of basketball at his alma mater; and Tiny Thornhill, who went on to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Perfect seasons were out after 1919, but they still were winning years. Herb Stein, a center, joined the list of All-Americans, and Harvey Harmon played a lot of tackle.

In 1924, Jock Sutherland began a 15 year regime, which started slowly but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Only 20 games were lost during this period, and another 11 were tied. Eastern titles came in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934 and 1937. Four times the Panthers showed in the Rose Bowl, winning the final game in 1937 against Washington.

All-Americans during the period were Ralph Chase in 1925 at tackle, Gibby Welch at halfback in 1927, Mike Betto at tackle in 1928, Ray Montgomery at guard and Joe Donchess at end in 1929, Jess Quatse at tackle in 1931, Warren Heller at halfback in 1932, Joe Skladany at end in 1933, Doc Hartwig at guard and George Shotwell at center in 1934, Averell Daniell at tackle in 1936, Marshall Goldberg at halfback and Tony Matisi at tackle in 1937, and Goldberg and Bill Daddio at end in 1938.

On the All-American rolls since Sutherland were Ralph Fife in 1941, Bernie Barkouskie in 1949, and Joe Schmidt in 1952, all guards; Eldred Kraemer, a tackle in 1952, Joe Walton, a unanimous choice at end in 1956, guard John Guzik in 1958 and end Mike Ditka in 1960.

Sutherland left in 1938 and the Pitt power fell off for the next ten years. Charley Bowser was succeeded by Clark Shaughnessy who held sway during World War II. Wes Fesler brightened the picture in 1946, and was followed by Mike Milligan who turned in the first winning teams of a decade in both 1948 and 1949.

When Milligan resigned in 1950, Len Casanova came in to take over for that year, but left the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over as head coach, and then in January of 1952 Lowell Dawson was named.

Dawson won six including Notre Dame, Army, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa among the victims and lost three.

In 1954 ill health caused him to give up football coaching in mid-season, and Tom Hamilton took over as head coach and put the team on a winning basis.

After the season he stepped down to turn the team over to Johnny Michelosen.

A 7-3 record, featuring decisive upset wins over Duke at Durham and over West Virginia before a capacity crowd in Pittsburgh, brought a Sugar Bowl invitation, and a close defeat by Georgia Tech at New Orleans that didn't hurt the Panther's national ranking.

The Panthers went to the Gator Bowl in 1956, after a 7-2-1 season, and again lost to Georgia Tech 21-14.

In 1957, Pitt was 4-6, in 1958, 5-4-1, in 1959 finished with a 6-4 record and had a 4-3-3 record in 1960.

In 1961, Pitt was 3-7, the most disastrous record since 1951. In 1962, the record was 5-5.

In 1963, Pitt finished with a 9-1 mark and was ranked third in the country.

After losing seasons in 1964, 3-5-2, and 1965, 3-7, Michelosen was succeeded by Dave Hart.

Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads did not perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a hard look at its football program and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in 10 years (6-4-1) and its first bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that to a 7-4 mark and a second-place ranking in the East in his second year, and last season Pitt finished 8-4, went to the Sun Bowl and was nationally ranked 13th by U.P.I.

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917, and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953 being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All-American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917, teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, and 1937; eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest days until his very sudden death in the spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his sudden death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history. These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is president of the Goldberg-Emmerman Corp. in Elk Grove Village, Ill.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917, a school record, and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his inter-collegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother,

Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Now a highly successful business executive, Stein owns and operates nine corporations. He resides in Cleveland.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the late Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks second in the all-time total yards gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died two years ago.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-American team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

Since graduation, he has become an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served last year as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death two years ago, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

These Panthers Rambled

Here are the top Pitt ground gainers and scorers since 1914. They traveled far in picking-up yards from scrimmage, passing, kick returns, and interceptions, and they put a lot of markers on the Pitt side of the scoreboard.

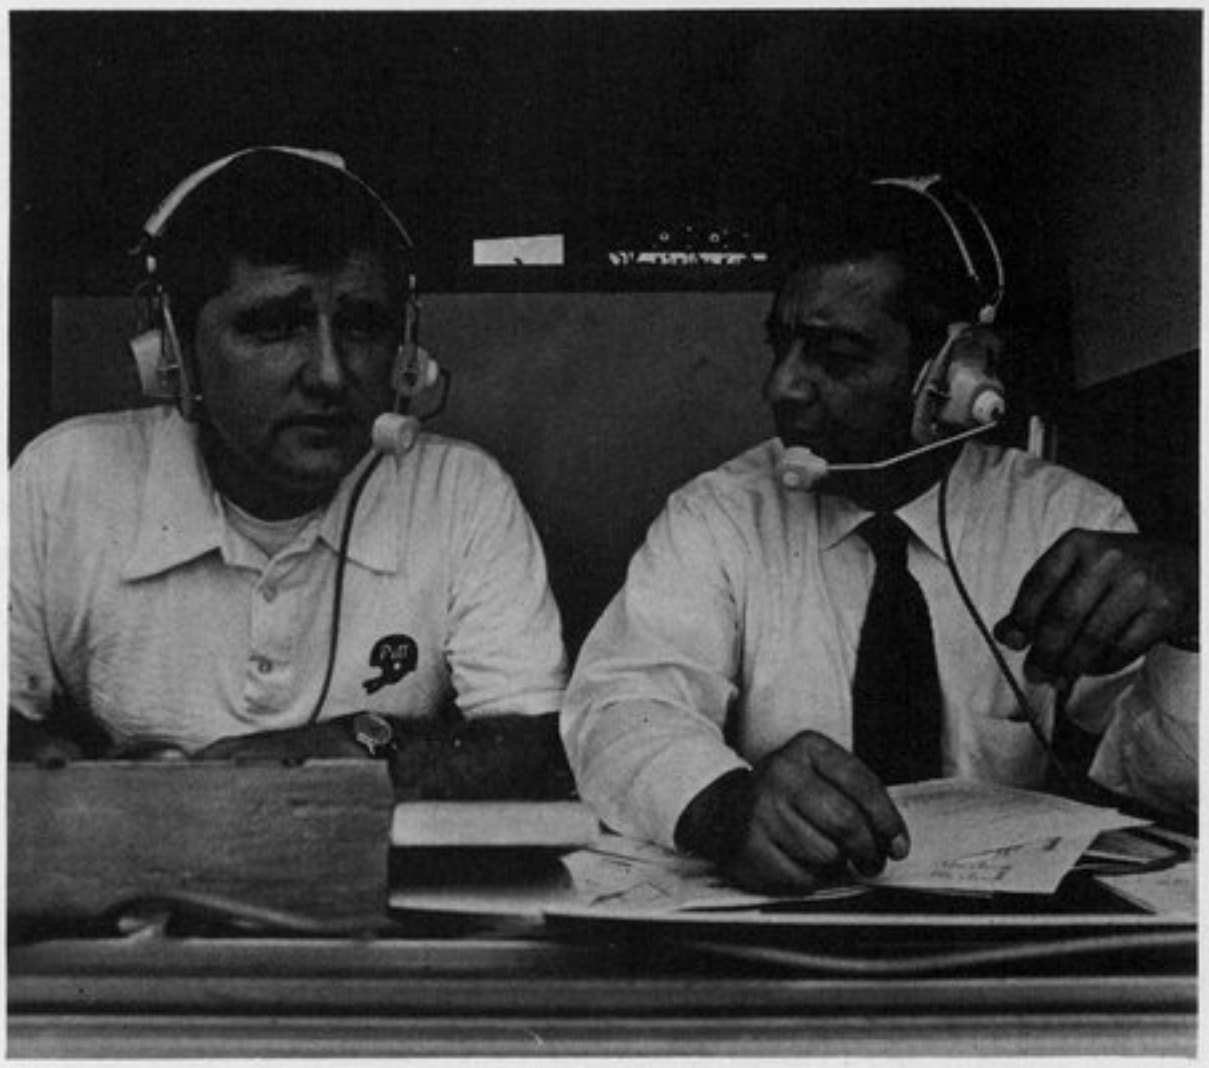
Panthers on the Air

Pitt football will be beamed this fall via both radio and television throughout Pennsylvania and into the surrounding States.

On radio a professional, first-class two-man broadcasting team will call the action for a 28-station network, originating with WTAE (1250) in Pittsburgh. 'Voice of the Panthers', Bill Hillgrove of WTAE-TV in Pittburgh, begins his third year as football play-by-play man. Hillgrove is joined by nationally known TV analyst John Sauer who is also beginning his third year on the team.



On the Scene: Bill Hillgrove, left, and John Sauer give Pitt an outstanding radio broadcasting team that is heard over a 28-station plus network.

The past several years, Hillgrove has gained a reputation as one of the State's most knowledgeable sportscasters. He joined the Pitt broadcasts seven years ago as the color man on the football games, and for the past six years has been the Voice of Pitt Basketball as play-by-play man.

In addition to his play-by-play duties, Hillgrove will also host the three weekly Johnny Majors radio and TV shows. He holds a bachelor's degree in radio/TV journalism from Duquesne University.

Former NFL analyst, Johnny Sauer, joined the Panther radio team two years ago to analyze the action and provide color commentary. Sauer was an analyst with CBS-TV for 12 years and was also associated with the Hughes Sports Network from 1970-72. He has worked numerous bowl games including the Gator, Astro Blue-Bonnett, Cotton, Tangerine, Blue-Gray, and Fiesta Bowl. Earlier he served as sports director of WING Radio in Dayton, Ohio, from 1957-71.

Sauer is a 1946 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy where he was a classmate of Pitt Chancellor, Dr. Wesley Posvar, and a football teammate of Pitt Athletic Director, Cas Myslinski. He has a long list of coaching and administrative credentials – backfield coach at West Point from 1947-49, backfield coach at Florida from 1950-52, backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams from 1953-54, athletic director and head coach of The Citadel from 1955-56, assistant coach of the College All-Stars from 1959-65, and head coach of the All-Stars in 1966 and 1967.

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE Radio will carry pre-game and post-game locker room Johnny Majors' shows. The 10-minute pre-game show will immediately precede all Pitt broadcasts, and the 15-minute post-game locker room show will be carried at 5:45 p.m. each Saturday following the game.

WTAE-TV (Channel 4) in Pittsburgh and a network of TV stations in the state will carry the weekly half-hour Johnny Majors' TV Show, featuring highlights of game action, discussions of strategy with Majors, and visits from Pitt players and assistant coaches.

The show will be carried on WTAE-TV at 12 noon Sunday, and on Monday evenings following the Action News report.

Notes on the Panthers

MATCH THIS

Pitt has always rightfully prided itself on its demanding schedule, but the Panthers may have been overdoing it just a bit the past couple of years. How many teams can say they've played the national champions the past three years in a row? Pitt can, having faced Notre Dame (AP) in 1973, Southern Cal (UPI) in 1974 and Oklahoma (both AP and UPI) in 1975. Needless to say, National Champions don't lose very often, and the Panthers dropped all three contests.

PANTHERS ON TV

Pitt is already scheduled for two appearances on the 1976 ABC-NCAA television series — Sept. 11 at Notre Dame (lead-off regional game to about 75 per cent of the country), and Nov. 26 vs. Penn State on national TV. It will mark Pitt's third consecutive national television appearance with Penn State, and overall the Panthers' fifth TV shot in the last three years (not counting bowl appearances). Last year the Pitt-Penn State game from Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh drew the largest TV audience of any game on the regular ABC-NCAA series.

Pitt Ranks 5th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Theasaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below the University of Pittsburgh is 5th to properly rank as one of the nation's all time great football names.

Memo to Press-Radio-TV

This brochure has been prepared for the members of the working press, radio and television who have so ably covered the Pitt athletic scene in the past years. We are appreciative of their interest and attention, and it is hoped this brochure will assist them in their coverage of the Pitt football team.

Contents of this booklet and changes in personnel and plans will be supplemented before and during the season by the Sports Information Office. If you desire additional information, services, or material, contact:

PRESS BOX: Accommodations in the press box will be furnished to representatives of Pittsburgh district papers, metropolitan papers filing for Sunday editions, press services, Pittsburgh radio and TV sports commentators, and scouts from schools playing either Pitt or its opponent. Requests should be made in advance, indicating whether or not Western Union or Sports Com services will be needed. The press gate is Gate #11.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline passes will be issued to Pittsburgh papers, news services, daily papers normally covering the opposing team, and student publications of the two schools. Photographers may not work in front of the bench and must stay behind the line and obey the instructions of the officer detailed to the area. Space on the photographers deck is reserved for newspapers in the same manner as field passes, and also for newsreel and game movie cameramen. This space must be requested in advance to insure adequate space. Field photographers should enter Gate #3. Photographers covering from the stand should use Gate #11.
